Dear Ms. Jacqz:

Taking into account the notes that both you and Vicente Sánchez prepared on our meeting of June 2, and also recent consultations with Eduardo Prieto López, we are now enclosing a revised outline for the seminar next February in Cocoyoc. This outline takes fully into account Mr. Slater's proposals and groups a number of sub-topics into units for discussion purposes. There is also a list of first and second choice participants from Mexico and Latin America and other areas, as well as some suggestions as to U.S. participants.

You will note that the budget has been revised downwards, since we have found that the Cocoyoc rates are lower than we had anticipated. We are making now a deposit of about US$1000 to guarantee the reservations for the period of February 21-27, 1982, at expected 1982 rates.

The memo covers other topics that we discussed. We hope to hear from you at the earliest. Meanwhile we are proceeding on the selection of reading materials on our side, and searching for translations into Spanish of U.S. materials.

With best wishes,

Víctor L. Urquidi

A G E N D A

PAST

(Until II World War)

- The basic ethos of American Society (reference to historical documents).
- Relation between native American cultures and those of european origin.
- The expansionist domestic ethos of the United States; the doctrine of Manifest Destiny; U.S. continental expansion.
- The changing nature of private enterprise and the role of the federal government in the economy.
- The U.S. in international trade, investment and finance.
- The Monroe Doctrine; U.S. relations with its neighbors; "gunboat-diplomacy".

PRESENT

(From II World War up to our days)

- The management of the U.S. economy
- Trends in education, science and technology
- Recent concern about the changing ethnic composition and changes in the social structure (minorities, urban problems, bilingualism, immigration issues, the role and place of "involuntarily absorbed peoples".
- Domestic political trends and their relation to foreign policy.
- Foreign policy and its impact on Latin America with an emphasis on:
  - American perceptions of "communism" in threats to the status quo.
  - American interventionist tendencies in Central America and the Caribbean.

Present...

- "Border issues".
- The crisis of the 70's (energy, food, and environmental problems).

FUTURE

- Plans, strategies, and mechanisms for coping with internal and global issues: alternative development patterns?
- The dilemma between technoburocratic authoritarian tendencies and participatory democracy.
- Foreign policy for the future, particularly issues such as:
  - peace and security
  - specific energy and food factors
  - impact on the Caribbean and Latin America as a whole
  - possibilities for the creation of subregional groupings and their relations with the U.S.
  - possibilities for a region wide collaboration among the countries of the Americas. Advantages and disadvantages of such proposition.

U. S. A.

We would like to suggest that one of the two
American members of the Board of the Centro

Tepoztlán be invited. They are:

Ralph Dungan (former representative of the USA in the Board of the Interamerican Development Bank and presently with the Carribbean Development Bank)

Henry Raymont (former journalist with the UPI and the New York Times and presently with the OAS).

We believe that people of the type of Robert L. Heilbroner, Arthur Schlesinger Jr., Father Hessburgh, Robert Anderson, Stanley Ross, would make a useful contribution.

Special Guests

Our thought is that we should have no more than four special guests for an evening lecture. In that connection we would like to invite Mr. Jorge Castañeda, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Mexico, for the dinner to be held on Sunday 21. Within the week we could have two or three more special guests, chosen among the following personalities: Walter Mondale or Henry Kissinger from U.S.A.; Raul Prebisch or Antonio Ortiz Mena from the Latinamerican scene, and Octavio Rivero (Rector of the National University of Mexico) or José Andrés de Oteyza (Minister of non-reneable resources and industrial development of Mexico).

Dear Dieter:

Thank you very much for your letter of 19 May. I am taking your very useful proposals into account in the preparation of the program for the 1983 World Congress of Economists of the International Economic Association. The conference is on "Structural Adjustment, Economic Interdependence, and World Development", and I consider your subject matter to be precisely at the center of the general topic. The program for the Congress will be set up around September this year. We still have time for further suggestions.

May I take this opportunity to tell you that Centro Tepoztlán is working actively and Vicente Sánchez and Eduardo Terrazas will send you a progress report in the near future. Our latest product is a paper for the Club of Rome meeting to be held June 16-19 in Caracas. I am sending you a copy under separate cover.

With best wishes,

Victor L. Urquidí

RECIBIDO 27 MAYO 1981

19.5.81

Dear Prof. Urquidi,

with separate mail I have sent you a copy of a special issue on "Industrial Redeployment and International Transfer of Technology: Trends and Policy Issues" of Vierteljahresberichte. Probleme der Entwicklungsländer (Friedrich Ebert Foundation, Bonn/FRG), March 1981.

This special issue deals with international transfer of technology and its role for the industrialization of the Third World. Its focus is on identifying some of the complex and contradictory interrelations prevailing between the restructuring of world industry, both geographic and sectorial, and the dominant pattern of innovation, transfer of and control over technology. Particularly it discusses the impact of recent technological break-throughs in the OECD region, and shows that most of the prevailing expectations of how restructuring of industries in the industrialized countries and redeployment of industries to the Third World would interrelate, will have to be considerably revised.

I would be glad to hear from you again, and particularly to receive critical comments. I would also very much appreciate to learn more about present activities of the Centro Tepoztlan.

With my best personal regards.

Yours sincerely,

(Dieter Ernst)

Subject: U.S.A.: Past, Present, and Future

We received your notes on the June 2 meeting held in New York and the materials on the Aspen Institute we had requested, and are very grateful for them. Our records on the agreements reached that day, coincide with yours. Only a few points of clarification: it was Vicente Sánchez (General Coordinator of the Centro Tepoztlán and Research Fellow at El Colegio de México) and not Eduardo Terrazas who accompanied me and was present at the meeting; also we believe to have agreed that although no journalist would be invited to participate in the meeting, we would prepare a press release and arrange for a television interview with a few selected participants, after the end of the meeting.

The relevant background materials on the United States, published in Mexico or Latin America are being selected and we hope to be able to send them to you before August 1.

Reservations have been made in the Hotel Hacienda Cocoyoc to accommodate up to 30 people, and also for the use of the conference facilities from February 21 to 27.

Attached you will find a proposed agenda which has been prepared on the basis of the subjects recommended by you and those in our earlier proposal. Also attached, a list with people we propose to invite. In it you will find first and second choice names, so that we can immediately proceed to invite somebody else if someone in the first group may not be able to attend. Your comments on both the agenda and the list of participants would be welcome, in order to have the invitations sent as soon as possible.

Sincerely yours,

Víctor L. Urquidi
President
