THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 26, 2021 ~ VOL. CCLXXVIII NO. 48

NASDAQ 15041.86 A 0.1%

10-YR. TREAS. ▼ 16/32, yield 1.342%

GOLD $1,788.20 v $17.40

What's

Business & Finance

Delta Air Lines said employees who aren D employees who aren't vaccinated against Covid-19 will have to pay a $200 monthly health-insurance surcharge and could lose pay protection for missing work due to the disease. A1

- work due to the disease. A western Digital is in advanced talks to merge with Japan's Kioxia in a deal that could be valued at more than $20 billion and further reorder the global chip industry. AI
- U.S. authorities are investigating Deutsche Bank's DWS arm after the firm's former head of sustainability said it overstated how much it used sustainable investing criteria to manage its assets. B2
- OnlyFans suspended its plan to prohibit content fea-turing sexually explicit con-duct, a policy about-face for the social-media platform. BI
- U.S. stocks rose, with the S&P 500 and Nasdaq gain-ing 0.2% and 0.1%, respec-tively, to close at records. The Dow added 0.1%. B9
- A Robinhood's stock give aways to customers have saddled some companies with larger bills for deliv-ering proxy statements, and the practice is now sparking a backlash. B1
- An ABC News staffer filed a lawsuit against Mi-chael Corn, the former top producer of "Good Morning America," alleging he sex-ually assaulted her. B1
- ♦ Chinese ride-hailing gi-ant Didi has delayed plans to expand to Britain and Eu-rope, partly due to political and regulatory challenges. B1

World-Wide

◆ Facing an Aug. 31 deadline ◆ Facing an Aug. 31 deadline to leave Aghanistan, the U.S. must shift in a few days from evacuating thousands of Afghans and up to 1,500 Americans still in the country to the job of loading the remaining U.S. military personnel and essential equipment onto the final departing planes. A1, A7, A8, A9

- ing planes. Al, A7, A8, A9

 ◆ Federal regulators are likely to approve a Covid-19
 booster shot for vaccinated adults starting at least six months after the previous dose in advance of the White House plan to start boosters in eight months. A1

 ◆ J&J said a second dose of its Covid-19 vaccine was found in a study to generate a strong immune response, justifying a booster shot. A6

 ◆ The U.S. program to help
- ◆ The U.S. program to help tenants and landlords strug-gling with the impact of the pandemic has delivered just a fraction of the promised aid, data from the Treasury Department show. A2
- A Biden hosted executives from major technology, financial and energy companies for a summit on national cybersecurity, calling the issue "the core national security challenge we are facing." A4
- A federal judge ordered sanctions against attorneys who sued Michigan officials alleging that widespread fraud denied Trump the election there in 2020. A4
- A Michigan militia ◆ A Michigan milittia member was sentenced to six years and three months in prison after he pleaded guilty to taking part in a plo to kidnap Gov. Whitmer. A3

U.S. Hunting for Americans As Afghan Deadline Closes In

Facing an Aug. 31 deadline to leave Afghanistan, the U.S. must shift in a few days from evacuating thousands of Af-

By Nancy A.

Saeed Shah

ghans and up to 1,500 Ameri-cans still in the country to the job of loading the remaining U.S. military personnel and es-sential equipment onto the fi-nal departing planes.

The evacuation operation in Kabul is taking place under increasingly perilous conditions. The U.S. Embassy, citing terror threats, issued a security alert late Wednesday to tell Americans not to travel to Hamid Karzai International Airport and said those already there should leave.

"U.S. citizens who are at the Abbey Gate, East Gate, or North Gate now should leave immediately," the alert said. Officials have been warning that members of the Afghan branch of the Islamic State extremist group were trying to mount an attack on military personnel or civilians at the airport. The Biden administration on Wednesday provided its first count of American civilians in Afghanistan, saying up to 1,500 U.S. citizens remained in the country.

Country.
U.S. officials are trying to evacuate 500 of the Americans, and are in contact with them, Secretary of State Antony Blinken said at the State Department. The status of another 1,000 civilian Americans is unclear, said Mr. Blinken, adding that U.S. officials were trying to contact them.

He said some may not be U.S. citizens, others may have left the country already and some may be planning to stay. Approximately 4,500 Ameri-Please turn to page A8

◆ Private rescue efforts grow
A7

Delta Air Sets Fee For Staff Refusing Vaccine

Airline adds $200 monthly surcharge for unvaccinated workers, warns of no sick pay

By Alison Sider

Delta Air Lines Inc. pivoted to a more-punitive approach toward getting its workforce vaccinated against Covid-19, saying unvaccinated workers will pay a $200 monthly health-insurance surcharge and could lose pay protection for missing work due to the disease.

disease.

The moves reflect a new front in companies' efforts to keep employees safe and working. Until now, many emission was a seed incentives, such keep employees safe and working. Until now, many employers used incentives, such as cash bonuses, to motivate workers to get vaccinated, or have mandated vaccinations. Delta's approach instead focuses on the financial burden of Covid-19 and aims to transfer it to those resisting vaccination. Studies show vaccination Studies show vaccination greatly reduces the risk of severe disease or death from the disease.

The $200 monthly charge for unvaccinated workers enrolled in Delta's healthcare plan "will be necessary to address the financial risk the decision to not vaccinate is creating for our company." Chief Executive Ed Bastian wrote to employees Wednesday.

Mr. Bastian mt. a price on Executive Ed Bastian wrote to employees Wednesday.

Mr. Bastian put a price on the lack of vaccination, saying the additional charge will help to cover hospital stays that are more likely for unvacci
Please turn to page A6

Chip Makers in Talks For $20 Billion Merger

BY CARA LOMBARDO AND DANA CIMILLUCA

Western Digital Corp. is in vanced talks to merge with Western Digital Corp. is in advanced talks to merge with Japan's Kloxia Holdings Corp., according to people familiar with the matter, in a deal that could be valued at more than $20 billion and further reorder the global chip industry. Long-running discussions between the companies have heated up in the past few weeks and they could reach agreement on a deal as early as mid-September, the people said. Western Digital would pay for the deal with stock and the combined company will chile. Deriving the company will be company the company of the combined conducting the conduction of th

Goeckeler, the people said There is no guarantee West ern Digital, which had a market value of around $19 billion Wednesday afternoon, will seal an agreement, and Kioxia could still opt for an initial public offering it had been planning or another combination.

The Wall Street Journal reported in March that Western Digital and Micron Technology Inc. were examining potential deals with Kioxia, which makes NAND flash-memory chips used in smartphones, computer servers and other devices. Micron's interest has since cooled and Kioxia has been focused on discussions with Western Digital, which has deep existing ties with the Japanese company.

Any transaction would re-Please turn to page A2

Tech Stocks Gain in China

After big selloffs this summer, China's internet stocks are climbing back. B4

Share-price performance

After Six Months

Booster Shots Likely

By Stephanie Armour And Jared S. Hopkins

Federal regulators are likely to approve a Covid-19 booster shot for vaccinated adults starting at least six months after the previous dose in advance of the White House plan to start boosters in eight months, a person familiar with the plans said, as the Biden administration steps up preparations for delivering boosters to the public.

rations for delivering boosters to the public.

Data from vaccine manufac-turers and other countries un-der review by the Food and Drug Administration is based on boosters being given at six months, the person said. Ap-proval for Pfizer Inc. and partner BioNTech SE could come in mid-September.

The Biden administration and companies have said there should be enough supply for boosters that they plan to begin distributing more widely on Sept. 20. The U.S. has purchased a combined one billion doses from Pfizer and Moderna Inc. A White House spokesman declined to comment an Endagana feelined to comment on interactions with vaccine makers.

Pfizer and BioNTech said Wednesday they had asked U.S. health regulators to au-Please turn to page A6

Your Toddler Demands Sanitizer

Covid rituals create kids hard-wired for hygiene habits

By Krystal Hur

Like many toddlers, 1-year-old Asher Subramanyam is ca-pable of bending the house-hold to his routines and hold to his routines and rituals.

The Connecticut tot demands that all visitors wash their hands before leaning down for a hug. There are no exceptions, as his grandparents found out on a recent visit.

"He would motion for them to wash their hands or he would come over and pretend to give them hand sanitizer," says Asher's father, Dr. Venkat Subramanyam.

Israel's New Leader Fights Its Old One

Can Bennett hold on to his government?

By Dov Lieber

AND RORY JONES

TEL AVIV—Since taking over in June as Israel's prime minister, Naftall Bennett has tried to construct a new political order. The biggest obstacle might be the man he displaced, his predecessor, Benjamin Netanyahu.

Mr. Bennett, a right-wing politician who will be in Washington this week to meet President Joe Biden, heads an unstable coalition of leftist, right-wing and Arab parties and by necessity must govern from the center.

He has tried to call every minister each week to ask how they are, according to coalition members. His tweets add the handles of other ministers to congratulate them on the government's work, which is studiously avoiding tackling studiously avoiding tackling contentious issues head on. He's turned to private sector experts on the coronavirus and other issues, asking for ideas via WhatsApp.

In a video published on Twitter this month, Mr. Bennett and members of each coalition party urged people to get vaccinated against the coronavirus, regardless of political affiliation.

Mr. Bennett's coalition accomplished what no other opponent of Mr. Netanyahu could over the past 12 years—it drove him from power. The political survival of the 49-year-old prime minister depends on winning enough votes beyond his traditional constituency to continue to lead. At stake is moving the constituency to continue to lead. At stake is moving the country past a divisive and Please turn to page A10

Salesforce. #1 CRM. Ranked #1 for CRM Applications based on IDC 2020 Revenue Market Share Worldwide

salesforce.com/number1CRM CBW market includes the following IDC defined functional markets: Sales Force Productivity and Management, Marketing Campaign Management, Customer Service, Contact Cente, Advertising, and Digital Comments Applications. 3 2021 salesforce.com in c. All rights reserved. Salesforce.com is a registered studemark of

Tech Britannia

Cambridge hub provides template for success — brooke masters, page 1

Pot of gold

Niche lenders reap high profits from cannabis growers - BIG READ, PAGE 15

Asimov power

Tour of duty Harris tests mood in Asia

Kamala Harris pays her respects at the memorial in Hanoi to former US senator John McCain on the third anniversary of his death. The site marks the spot where his navy aircraft was shot down by the North Vietnamese in 1967.

The US vice-president is on a tour of south-east Asia aimed at bolstering Washington's influence in the face of increasing Chinese assertiveness, and to see first-hand the region's recovery from the Covid-19 pandemic.

tne Covid-19 pandemic.
South Korea, a leading US ally in the region, called on Washington yesterday to encourage drugmakers to share the mRNA technology that would allow it to boost domestic vaccine output to tackle the risk from the Delta variant.
Vaccine deadlock page 4

UK watchdog's Binance warning raises alarm over crypto-platforms

FCA sees risks to consumers
 Exchange fails to answer queries
 Group has no fixed HQ

AND EVA SZALAY — LONDON
One of the leading financial regulators has said it is "not capable" of properly supervising Binance despite the "significant risk" posed by the cryptocurrency exchange's products, which allow consumers to take superchanged bets.
Binance is among the biggest crypto exchanges, facilitating hundreds of billions of dollars of transactions each month.

month.

But the Financial Conduct Authority said Binance's UK affiliate had failed to respond to basic queries, making it impossible to oversee the sprawling group, which has no fixed headquarters and offers services around the world.

The admission underscores the challenge authorities face in tackling potential risks to consumers buying frequen-tly unregulated products through crypto-currency businesses, which can often circumvent national bans by giving users access to facilities based overseas. The London watchdog censured Binance two months ago, saying that the company was unauthorised to offer con-ventional francial territors of fer con-ventional francial territors of fer conventional financial services or offer a crypto exchange within the UK. Regula-tors in other major financial hubs have also expressed concern but the com-pany has continued to offer crypto trad-ing to consumers around the world.

pany has continued to other crypto trad-ing to consumers around the world. The FCA said yesterday that Binance's "complex and high-risk financial prod-ucts" posed "a significant risk to con-sumers". It added that one of Binance's London-based affiliates, which is regis-tered with the watchdog as an investment company, had supplied insuffi-cient information on the wider group's products offered in the UK, as well as other business details. That meant Cay-man Islands-incorporated Binance "was not capable of being effectively super-vised", it said.

Binance said it continued to "engage

Binance said it continued to "engage with the FCA to resolve any outstanding issues that may exist". It added that it had compiled with requirements the FCA put in place in June, including posting of notices to its website.

The FCA kicked off a string of warnings by global regulators by banning Binance's UK affiliate from offering regulated products in the country. But British consumers can still trade derivatives and other regulated products on Binance with the control of the products on Binance.com. The exchange uses affili-

Binance said it continued to 'engage with the FCA to resolve any outstanding may exist

ates in different jurisdictions to access the conventional banking system. Changeng Zhao, its chief executive, has vowed to boost compliance, while watchdogs question the rigour of its pol-icles to stop money laundering and the financing of terrorism on its platform. The exchange had indicated to the

The exchange had indicated to the FCA that its UK operations were separate from other parts of the group. But internal Binance documents seen by the Financial Times say "Binance is operating an FCA regulated business" and notes "consumers will be subject to the FCA regulatory guidelines".

Binance said: "The information provided to the FCA is correct and we continue to have good faith discussions with the UK regulator."

Lex page 18

- Nato chief flags terror threat to airlift Jens Stoltenberg has warned that the risk of an attack on troops running evacuations from Kabul airport is rising every day as the August 31 deadlin approaches.— PAGE 2: MALEEHA LODHI, PAGE 17
- ► EY fined £2.2m over Stagecoach audit A London watchdog has penalised the firm over its audit of the UK-listed transport group. It fined Mar Harvey, the partner concerned, and ordered him and EY to pay £600,000 costs. PAGE 18
- ▶ Big step for Biden's economy legislation The US House of Representatives has approved the The US House of Representatives has approved the framework for the president's $3.5tn spending plan after days of talks among Democrats. The detailed bill can now be debated later in the year.— PAGE 4
- The chancellor's Christian Democrats have lost their poll lead, piling heat on candidate Armin Laschet. It also raises the prospect of a centre-left government in Berlin.—PAGE 2

- ➤ OnlyFans makes U-turn on porn ban The social media platform has reversed its decision to ban explicit content after founder Tim Stokely's criticism in the FT of "unfair" banks sparked fresh talks with "larger institutions"... PAGE 8; LEX, PAGE 18
- German business outlook darkens The widely watched business climate index from the Ifo institute has shown supply chain disruptions and concerns about a resurgence in Covid infections taking a toll on business expectations.— PAGE 2
- J&J says booster jab shows strong results

Datawatch

President under pressure

in France's 'fascist-sphere'

Marine Le Pen, leader of the far-right Rassemblement National, has sought to defoxify the party's image without allenating core voters but some critics say others are doing the 'dirty work' for her. The past six years have seen the arrival of the 'fachosphere', where influencers like Estelle 'Redpill', above, use sex appeal and lokes to entice viewers to extreme views. The young, key in April's vote, are the main target. Hope and risks > PAGE 3 Notebook > PAGE 16

Subscribe in print and online

Tel: 1800 628 8088 For the latest news go to www.ft.com

© THE FINANCIAL TIMES LTD 2021 No: 40,796 *

Delta makes unvaccinated staff pay up as Biden pushes business to get tough

Delta Air Lines has said it will levy a $200 a month surcharge on unvacci-nated employees enrolled in its health-care plan in the latest example of US companies raising pressure on workers to have the Covid-19 Jab.

The first fully fledged approval of a vac-cine this week by the US Food and Drug Administration, which gave a green light to the BloNTech/Piizer Jab, has prompted a string of companies to introduce tougher rules on inoculations. Joe Biden has urged business leaders to "require vaccinations" for employ-ees, and several have compiled with the ees, and several have complied with the US president's request, including the investment bank Goldman Sachs, the countancy firm Deloitte and pharmacy operator CVS Health.

Delta is the first big US company to mpose a financial penalty, although it impose a financial penalty, although it stopped short of introducing a vaccine mandate, a step taken by United Airlines and Amtrak.

Ed Bastian, Delta chief executive, said the airline had decided to impose the $200 surcharge from November to insulate its healthcare plan against the "financial risk" of paying for employees sick with Covid-19.

In a memo to staff, seen by the Financial Times, Bastian said the average cost of an employee's Covid-related hospital treatment was $40,000, and that all its infected workers in recent weeks had not been fully vaccinated.

In addition, a mask mandate will

In addition, a mask mandate will come into effect immediately for unvaccinated Delta workers and, beginning on September 12, employees who are not fully vaccinated must submit to a weekly Covid-19 test.

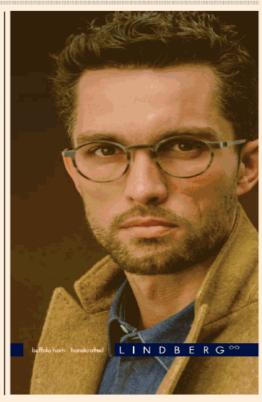

Three-quarters of Delta employees

Three-quarters of Delta employees are vaccinated. Bastian said he wanted that number to rise to "as close to 100 per cent as possible". Following the FDA's full approval of the BioNTech/Pitzer jab, "we can be confident that the . . . vaccine is safe and effective", Bastian told staff. "The time for you to get vaccinated is now."

The chief executive added that from September 30, only fully vaccinated Delta employees with a breakthrough infection would be eligible for Covid-19 pay protection while quarantining.

infection would be eligible for Covid-19
pay protection while quarantining.
Bastian said the moves were a response to the fast-spreading Delta variant. "Over the past few weeks, the fight has changed with the rise of the B.1.61.7.2 variant," he said, pointing to the increase in US hospital admissions and deaths.

					W	oria	Marke	ets
STOCK MARKETS				CURREN	CIES					INTEREST RATES
	Aug 25	prev	%chg		Aug 25	prev		Aug 25	prev		price	yield	chg
S&P 500	4498.20	4486.23	0.27	S per €	1.175	1.176	£ per $	0.728	0.728	US Gav 10 yr	148.95	1.32	0.05
Nasdaq Composite	15036.52	15019.80	0.11	$ per £	1.373	1.373	€ per £	1.169	1.168	UK Gov 10 yr		0.60	0.06
Dow Jones Ind	35474.78	35386.26	0.31	£ per €	0.856	0.857	¥ per €	129.383	129.007	Ger Gov 10 yr		-0.42	0.06
FTSEurofirst 300	1818.50	1819.44	-0.05	¥ per $	110.100	109.695	£ index	B1.633	81.694	Jpn Gav 10 yr	117.26	0.02	0.00
Euro Staux 50	4180.97	4178.08	0.07	¥ per £	151.184	150,612	SFr per £	1.256	1.252	US Gov 30 yr	115.67	1.95	0.05
FTSE 100	7150.12	7125.78	0.34	SFr per €	1.075	1.072				Ger Gov 2 yr	105.58	-0.74	0.01
FTSE All-Share	4119.44	4104.84	0.36	€ per $	0.851	0.850
CAC 40	6676.48	6664.31	0.18
Xetra Dax	15860.66	15905.85	-0.28	сонно	DITIES						price	prev	chg
Nikkei	27724.80	27732.10	-0.03							Fed Funds Eff	0.10	0.08	0.02
Hang Sang	25683.95	25727.92	-0.13			A	ag 25	prev	%chg	US 3m Bills	0.05	0.05	0.00

VOL. CLXX No. 59,162

1,500 Citizens Remain In Afghanistan as U.S. Intensifies Rush to Exit

Pakistan Has Future Riding on Taliban

By JANE PERLEZ

By JANE PERLEZ
Just days after the Taliban took Kabul, their flag was flying high above a central mosque in Pakistan's capital. It was an in-your-face gesture intended to spite the defeated
NEWS
ANALYSIS
ANALYSIS
ANALYSIS
The variety of the real victors in the 20-year Afghan was ostensibly Americas partner in the war against cas partner in the war against military won tens of billions in American aid over the last two decades, even as Washington acknowledged that much of the money disappeared into unaccounted sinkholes.
But it was a relationship riven
by duplicity and divided interests from its very start after 9/11. Not least, the Afghan Taliban the Americans were fighting are, in large part, a creation of Pakistan's intelligence service, the of the war nurtured and protected Taliban assets inside Pakistan.
In the last three months as the akistan. In the last three months as the aliban swept across Afghani-an, the Pakistani military Taliban swept across Afghanistan, the Pakistani military waved a surge of new fighters across the border from sanctuaries inside Pakistan, tribal leaders have said. It was a final coup de grâce to the American-trained Afghan security forces. The LS.1, think they have wan Afghanistan, said Robert L. Gernier, a former C.I.A. station chief in Pakistan. But, he warned, the Pakistanis should watch what they wish for. "If the Afghan Taliban become leaders of a pariah state, which is likely, Pakistan will find itself tethered Continued on Page A8

Continued on Page A8

Fears for the Afghan Allies Left Behind

By LARA JAKES
and MICHAEL LEVENSON
WASHINGTON — At least
1,500 American citizens remain in Afghanistan with just days left before the scheduled U.S. withdrawal from the country, but officials on Wednesday acknowledged the reality that tens of thousands of Afality that tens of thousands of and ality and the service of the servi

of Tailban reprisals would be left behind.

The sound of gunfire, and clouds of tear gas and black smoke, filled the air around the in-ternational airport in Kabul, the capital, as thousands of Afghans massed at the gates on Wednes-day, desperate to escape ahead of the American military's final de-parture on Aug. 31, after 20 years of war.

parture on Aug. 31, after 20 years of war.

The U.S. Embassy warned Americans later in the day to stay away from the airport and told anyone outside the perimeter to "leave immediately." The British and Australian governments issued similar warnings.
A senior U.S. official, who spoke on the condition of anonymity to describe confidential assessments, confirmed that the United States was tracking a "specific" and "credible" threat at the airport from the Islamic State affiliate in Afghanistan, which has carried out dozens of attacks in recent years and is a rival of the Taliban.

iban.

As military and government charter flights took off every 45 minutes as part of an airlift, Biden administration officials said they had evacuated about 82,300 people since Aug. 14, the day before Kabul felt to the Taliban. Around 4,500 of the mover a American citi-dream to the control of the contr

Continued on Page A6

G.O.P. DIVIDE The resettlement of Afghan allies in the U.S. is revealing a schism between the party's anti-immigrant wing and others. PAGE A9

SNEAK PEEK Two members of Congress went to Kabul to see the evac-uation process for themselves. They got bipartisan rebukes. PAGE A9

A cleared lot in Surfside, Fla., where the Champlain Towers South condominium once stood. Ninety-eight people died in its collapse.

NAVALNY IS GIVEN PROPAGANDA DIET

First Interview From Jail With Critic of Putin

By ANDREW E. KRAMER

By ANDREW E. KRAMER

MOSCOW — Russia's most famous prisoner. The pyposition leader lefssei A two my prisoner in the left of th posts.

Nor is he being actively muzzled by the Kremlin. When asked about Mr. Navalny's social media presence on Tuesday, Mr. Putin's spokesman, Dmitri S. Peskov, said that it was "not our business" if Mr. Navalny spoke out.
But the written exchange of Continued on Page A10

Collapsed Condo Was Troubled From the Start

By MIKE BAKER
and MICHAEL LAFORGIA

It was in the middle of summer in 1980 when developers raising a pair of luxury condominium towers in Surfside, Fla., went to town officials with an unusual request:
They wanted to add an extra floor
to each building.

The application to go higher was almost unheard-of for an ambitious development whose construction was already well underway. The builders had not mentioned the added stories in their original plans. It was not clear how much consideration they had given to how the extra floors would affect the structures overall. And, most galling for town officials, the added penthouses would prevent laid-back Surfside from becoming another Miami Beach.

At one point, the town building department issued a terse stopwork order. But records show that in the face of an intense campaign that saw lawyers for the developers threaten lawsuits and argue with officials deep into the night, the opposition folded — and the developers got their way.

A Financially Strapped Town Felt Bullied by Developers

Frank Filiberto, who was on the Town Commission at the time, recalled feeling as if the developers regarded him and the other officials as "local yokels."

"They were bullies," Mr. Filiberto said. "There was a lot of anger."

ger."

Although there is no indication that the catastrophic collapse of the Champlain Towers South building in June was related to the tacked-on penthouse, the alteration was just one of many contentious parts of a project that w pushed through by aggressive pushed through by aggressive de-velopers at a time when the local government seemed wholly un-prepared for a new era of soaring prepared for a new con-condo projects.

Surfside had only a part-time building inspector, George De-sharnais, who worked at the same building inspector, George De-sharmais, who worked at the same time for Bal Harbour, Bay Harbor Islands and North Bay Village. Records show that the Surfside building department delegated in-spections of the towers back to the Champlain Towers builders, who tapped their own engineer to sign off on construction work. The solve the penthouse issue be-cause, just as the issue came be-fore the city, he was arrested on charges — later dismissed — of peeping into the window of a 13-year-old girl and abruptly re-signed.

The development team itself

signed.

The development team itself had a dubious record. The archi-Continued on Page A13

A State So Dry, Ranchers Are Selling Cows Before They Starve

By HENRY FOUNTAIN

TOWNER, N.D. — Darrell Rice
stood in a field of corn he'd planted in early June, to be harvested in the fall and chopped up to feed the hundreds of cows and calves he raises in central North Dakota.

"It should be six, seven, eight foot tall," he said, looking down at the stunted plants at his feet, their tright against their stalles to conserve water in the summer heat.
Like ranchers across the state,
Mr. Rice is suffering through an epic drought as bad or worse than anywhere else in this season of extreme weather in the Western half of the country.
A lack of snow last winter and

of the country.

A lack of snow last winter and almost no spring rain have created the driest conditions in generations. Ranchers are being forced to sell off portions of herds they have built up for years, often at fire-sale prices, to stay in business.

Some won't make it.

"It's a really bad situation," said Randy Weigel, a cattle buyer, who said this drought may force some older ranchers to retire. "They've worked all their lives to get their cow herd to where they want, and now they don't have enough feed to be to be to be to be to be to be Sire December, in the weekly maps produced by the United States Drought Monitor, all of North Dakota has been colored in

A parched ranch in McHenry County, N.D., where months of drought have decimated cattle feed.

shades of yellow, orange and red, symbolizing various degrees of drought. And since mid-May, Mc-Henry County, where Mr. Rice ranches and farms, has been squarely in the middle of a swath of the darkest red, denoting the most extreme conditions.

The period from January 2020
to this June has been the driest 18 months in McHenry and 11 other counties in the state since modern record keeping began 126 years ago, according to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Admin-

PAGE BI

Biden in Sprint To Lift Economy And Presidency

By JIM TANKERSLEY and EMILY COCHRANE

By JIM TANKERSLEY
and EMILY COCHRANE
WASHINGTON — President
Biden, his aides and his allies in Congress face a September sprint to secure a legislative victory that could define his could be recommended by the could define his
could be recommended by the could define his could be recommended by the could be recommended by the could be after party leaders in the House struck a deal this week to advance the two-track approach that Mr. Biden hopes will deliver a $4 trillion overhaul of the federal government's role in the economy. That agreement sets up a potentially perilous vote on one part of the agenda by Sept. 27: a bipartisan deal on roads, broadband, water pipes and other physical infrastructure. It also spurred House and forts to complete a larger, Democrats-only bill to fight climate change, expand educational access and invest heavily in workers and families, inside that same window.

If the party's factions can workers and families, inside this same window.

If the party's factions can bridge their differences in time they could deliver a signature legislative achievement for Mr. Continued on Page A15

NATIONAL A11-19

Hochul Chooses Her No. 2 Gov. Kathy C. Hochul selected Brian A Benjamin, a state senator from Harlen

Returning Home to Flames

utenant governor.

A beloved ranching community in Northern California faces destruction by America's largest wildfire. PAGE All

Seeking Help on Spy Missions

Despite their opposing views on Iran, Israel's prime minister, Naftali Bennett, wants President Biden to support covert Israeli operations against Tehran's nuclear program. PAGE AIG PAGE A10

China Floats Covid Falsehoods

Trying to fend off investigations into the pandemic's origins in China, Beijing is promoting baseless theories that the United States may be the true source of the coronavirus. PAGE A4

OPINION A22-23

Farhad Manjoo

SPORTS B7-10

An Archer Finds 'My People Lia Coryell often questioned if life with a debilitating disease was worth living. She found the answer. PAGE I

Williams Will Miss U.S. Open

A nagging hamstring injury is still too tender for the 23-time Grand Slam singles champion. PAGE B7

How Mexico Aided Journalists The country's foreign minister led an effort to take in Afghans who worked for The New York Times, and their families, Ben Smith writes. PAGE

A Thorny Vaccination Tactic

Delta Air Lines will charge unvaccinated workers more for health insurance, a move mired in legal doubts. PAGE BI

She Had All the Answers

Reporting from the author of a book about "Jeopardy!" thrust the game show into a period of uncertainty. PAGE C1

THURSDAY STYLES D1-6

A New Line on Cotton Totes You can get those fashionable little bags pretty much everywhere. So how did a supposed environmental solution be-come part of the problem? PAGE D4

Photographs by MARCUS YAM Los Angeles BRITISH AND U.S. security forces watch over Afghans waiting at the Kabul airport. The U.S. promised to rescue vulnerable Afghans

ANALYSIS

Recall backers blame crime on Newsom

Murders have surged amid the pandemic, but experts say the reasons are complex.

By Melody Gutierrez

SACRAMENTO — An image of crime tape flashes across the screen. A woman says, "we don't feel safe anymore," adding that "crime is surging" in California. The solution, the ad paid for by a som.

Republicans looking to replace Newsom in next month's election say the governor is "soft on crime" and to blame for the state's increase in violent crime, pointing to a rise in homicides as a reason voters should approve the recall.

But researchers who study crime rates say the surge is much more complicated than the attack ads suggest, and that the causes for it probably extend well beyond the policies of one governor the probable steend well beyond the policies of one governor crime of the United States saw increases, said Aaron Chalfin, a professor of criminology at the University of Pennsylvania.

In California, homicides Republicans looking to in California, homicides rose 31% from 2019 to 2020, In California, homicides rose 31% from 2019 to 2020, with firearms used in three-quarters of those deaths, according to the state's Homicide Report published by the Department of Justice. That report notes that the COVID-19 pandemic had unknown impets on crime data that warrant further analysis. Chalfin said the United States experienced a [See Grime, A7]

Newsom, Elder help each other

George Skelton says the governor and his top rival are rising together. CALIFORNIA, BI

Democrat joins recall debate

YouTube star Kevin Paffrath brings some partisan heat to the skirmish. CALIFORNIA, BI

Trailblazing women now trapped

Afghan activists, professionals say their work may doom them

By Marcus Yam

BY MARCUS YAM

KABUL. Afghanistan —
Hervoice is steady and calm, but at times, talking of days just passed, she has the look of a person in the grip of vertigo. Or simple disbelief.

"This is a very horrible moment," she said. "All of a And the result of the person of the training of the training of the training of a pioneer. She managed a company in an industry that developed swiftly over the last 20 years, one in which women played a small but significant role.

That characterization of her professional life is deliberately vague, as is disclored.

SHOPPERS out in Kabul this week. Some women fear the Taliban's wrath and are staying out of sight.

Pleas for those stuck in Afghanistan

Members of Congress deluged with constituent requests say they can do only so much. NATION, A6 sure of her first name only — Sahar — or any description of her appearance beyond her reflective eyes, her black hair, her way of clasping her hands together as she speaks. Even basic details of her personal life are being withheld.

Because she is afraid.
Taliban fighters have yet to come knocking on her door. But ever since the city and country changed hands, Sahar has largely stayed out of sight, wondering whether the accomplishments in which she previously took such pride will now be her under the same of the same of the same
of the same of the same of the same such that have a voice right now, she said. "You have to stay low-profile. You have [See Women, A4]

BLINKEN VOWS TO GET OUT ALL U.S. CITIZENS

Secretary of State assures an estimated 1,500 Americans still in Afghanistan.

By Tracy Wilkinson

WASHINGTON — With despair growing over who will be left behind in Afghanistan, Secretary of State Antony J. Blinken on Wednesday promised that all American citizens who want to leave will be able to do so, even after next Tuesday's deadline for withdraw-country.

day's deadline for withdrawal of Western troops from the country.

Blinken also vowed to use "every available tool" to eventually rescue vulnerable Afghans whose lives under Tailban rule would be especially perilous but whose transport from the country is vastly more complicated, particularly those who worked with the U.S. over the last two decades.

"Let me be crystal clear about this: There is no deadline on our work to help any remaining American citizens who decide they want to leave to do so," he said. "That efforwill on thrue every the state of the same to the many Afghans who have stood by us over these many years, want to leave and have not been able."

That rang hollow, though, for thousands of Afghans desperate to leave been able."

That rang hollow, though, for thousands of Afghans desperate to leave and swamping the airport in Kabul. Also left behind so far are several hundred core staffmembers from the U.S. Embassy in Kabul and related State Department programs who say they were [See Evacuation, A4]

ASHANIQUE Nelson-Cavil with baby Indigo and husband William Iman Cavil at Kindred Space in Hyde Park in May, "I wanted to be in a space with people I trust," the new mom said.

Black midwives deliver comfort and care in a Kindred Space

COLUMN BY SANDY BANKS | PHOTOGRAPHS BY DANIA MAXWELL

egra Hill knew she wanted to be a nidwife long before she knew exactly midwife long before she knew exactly what the term meant. Her mother had delivered her with the help of a midwife, and "every birth-day I would hear my birth story ... and how giving birth was the best day of her life," Hill said.

But as Hill moved through college, the path to becoming a midwife wasn't clear. So she settled for a job in advertising — until another family birth rekindled her dream.

She was visiting her pregnant sister in the Bay Area when her niece entered the world unexpectedly. The unplanned home birth "was really crazy, but really special." Hill recalled

Her sister was soaking in a backyard hot tub, to ease the pain of labor, when she suddenly feit the urge to push. The infant's head appeared as she was climbing out of the tub. "Her husband caught the baby." Hill said. "I was fascinated by how natural the whole process was."

A few years later, Hill decided to ditch her job and follow her calling, pursuing the education she needed to care for and support women during pregnancy, labor and birth.

Becoming a licensed midwife in California is a formidable process, requiring at least three years of classes, an apprenticeship [See Midwives, A8]

Bills take on threat of rising sea level

By Rosanna Xia

In a year marked by record-breaking wildfires, extreme heat and unpreces. California lawmakers say there's another—seemingly distant, but just as urgent—climate catastrophe the state cannot afford to ignore: sea level rise.

This oft-overlooked threat is the focus of more than a dozen new bills and resolutions this year—a remarkable political awakening mobilized by years of research and piecemeal except the California coast above water.

There's Senate Bill 1—the very first measure introduced this legislative session—which confronts sea level rise adaptation head-on. Another bill proposes an innovative buyout program that sets the stage for a different, more proactive approach to the difficult choices that have long paralyzed coastal communities from taking necessary action.

[See Sea level, A11]

[See Sea level, A11]

BUSINESS INSIDE: New owner has big plans to update Baldwin Hills Crenshaw Plaza. A10

Hot, humid 94/77 • Tomor

Targeted online ads aid push for vaccination

Groups' messages use politics, religion, hobbies to persuade holdouts

BY JEREMY B. MERRILL AND DREW HARWELL

In an ad shown to people Facebook thinks are college-edu-cated conservatives in Oklahoma, coronavirus vaccination is touted coronavirus vaccination is touted as "trusted by the U.S. military... and by our Greatest Generation." In another, Facebook users in-terested in the Catholic Church are told that Pope Francis says getting vaccinated is the "moral choice." Still another tells fans of beer and country music ""t's okay.

choice." Still another tells fans of beer and country music, "It's okay to question. Now get the facts on coronavirus vaccines." At least 35 government agen-cies, nonprofit entities, corpora-tions and public figures have purchased ads with different pro-vaccination messages, each set to reach — and hopefully persuade — Americans based on character-rets.

— Americans based on characteristics such as political affiliation, cultural identity and hobbies, a Washington Post analysis of Facebook ad data has found.

The practice, known as microtargeted advertising, is one of the Internet's biggest boogeymen and has long been criticized as invasive, discriminatory and divisive. But the ad technique — in SEE INFORMATION ON A4

Unconvinced: FDA approval is still

Survey finds American teens weary but optimistic

Sophia Grigsby watched with horrified amazement as insurrec-tionists stormed the Capitol on Jan. 6, defiling the halls of power in a violent attempt to prevent Joe Biden from becoming presi-

Joe Biden from to-dent.
The 16-year-old from rural Minnesota wondered, fleetingly, The 16-year-old from rural Minnesota wondered, fleetingly, if she had been naive in believing that the protests last summer following the murder of George Floyd had truly marked a turning point. Yet even as the televised spectacle confirmed her belief in the rising dangers of white supremacy — some of the rioters were carrying Confederate flags—Grigsby's optimism won out.—Even with the murder of George Floyd, Tim finding people have become so much more aware," said Grigsby, who starts her junior year of high school in St. Peter, Minn., this month.

SEE TEENS ON AS

U.S., allies speed evacuations

Armed men associated with the Afghan resistance against the Taliban check cars Wednesday traveling in Panjshir province, the northeastern region of Afghanistan that is home to a budding movement opposing the militant group now in control in Kabul.

Perilous departure revives heartache for Gold Star families

BY DAN LAMOTHE

As Jennie Taylor watched from Utah while the Taliban seized Kabul, the mother of seven was overcome with white-hot anger. Not only was a "devastation of humanity" unfolding in Aighanistan three years after her husband, Maj. Brent Taylor, was killed there, but military families were declaring the war was protected.

minut worth it.

"To me, that's nails on a chalkboard," she said. "It's so counter to how I feel at my very

Two thousand miles away in Florida. Two thousand miles away in Florida, Elena Gutierrez's initial reaction was different, at least at first. Watching the chaos play out, the mother of four cried while mourning anew the February 2020 death of her husband, Sgt. 1st Class Javier J. Gutierrez. He was one of the last two U.S. soldiers killed before the Trump administration signed a withdrawal deal with the Taliban.

SEE GOLD STAR ON A14

Deanna Sartor holds a portrait of her late husband, Sgt. Maj. James G. "Ryan" Sartor.

Cash-strapped Taliban seeks political deal to legitimize government

BY SUSANNAH GEORGE

BY SUSANNAH GEORGE

KABUL — The Taliban is scrambling to reach a deal with former Afghan officials to establish a government that could gain international recognition, keep aid money flowing into the country and restore access to billions of dollars in international reserves.

Taliban leaders have shuttled between more than a dozen meetings over the past week with the few former Afghan officials who remain in Kabul, including former president Hamid Karzai; Abdullah Abdullah, former leader of national reconciliation council; and Gulbuddin Hekmatyar, a former warlord-turned-politician. The meetings have been held in the presidential palace, former government offices and private compounds.

For the Taliban, a political agreement

vate compounds.

For the Taliban, a political agreement could help the group avoid again becoming an international pariah, which would push SEE TALIBAN ON A13

FEARS RISE FOR AT-RISK AFGHANS

Nations transition toward exit by Aug. 31

BY MISSY RYAN, KAROUN DEMIRJIAN, JOHN HUDSON AND DAN LAMOTHE

The United States and European allies accelerated their efforts to evacuate Western and local nationals from Afghanistan on Wednesday, with less than a week remaining before President Biden's departure deadline, as the military prepared to hand control of the Kabul airport to Taliban forces.

forces.

European countries including France and Germany signaled that European countries including Fance and Germany signaled that they would wrap up their evacua-tion missions within days, possi-bly as early as Thursday, despite the crush of desperate Afghans who fear Taliban reprisal but have not been able to get out. The Pentagon acknowledged that its ability to airlift evacuees could decrease in coming days as it turns to pulling out weaponry, equipment and troops ahead of the Aug. 31 deadline, which Biden affirmed this week was likely to be the Aug. 31 deadline, which Biden affirmed this week was likely to be a coda to the United States' two decades in Afghanistan. Secretary of State Antony Blinken said the focus in coming days would be on assisting remaining American citizens, who are believed to number up to 1,500, and certain Afghans who have worked with the U.S. government. He said at least 4,500 U.S. citizens have been evacuated from the country since Aug. 14.

citizens have been evacuated from the country since Aug. 14.

Blinken sought to telegraph continued support for Afghans despite the hurried American exit and a recognition of the United States' limited leverage following the Taliban's return to power.

"We know that lives and futures, starting with our fellow citizens', including the lives of children, hang in the balance during SEE AFGHANISTAN ON A12

Taliban: Militants display U.S. weapons to project authority. A12

further trips to Kabul. A13

Haiti's earthquake survivors

Resemonde Joseph, like many others in Haiti, has struggled since this month's 7.2-magnitude earthquake. Story, A11

Corporate America's $50 billion vow

Pledges to racial justice causes reveal limits of firms' power to effect change

After the murder of George Floyd ignited nationwide pro-tests, corporate America acknowl-edged it could no longer stay si-lent and promised to take an ac-tive role in confronting systemic racism.

From Silicon Valley to Wall Street, companies proclaimed
"Black lives matter." JPMorgan
Chase CEO Jamie Dimon adopted Chase CEO Jame Dimon adopted the posture of former NFL quar-terback Colin Kaepernick's pro-tests against police brutality and took a knee with bank employees. McDonald's declared Floyd and other slain Black Americans "one of us."

Now, more than a year after America's leading businesses asarow, more than a year after America's leading businesses assured employees and consumers they would rise to the moment, a Washington Post analysis of unprecedented corporate commitments to racial justice causes reveals the limits of companies' power to remedy structural problems.

Apple and American American Structural problems.

lems.

Apple and AbbVie, Facebook and Pfizer, Johnson & Johnson and Procter & Gamble, and other top corporations made broad claims about what they would do, pledging to be a force for societal change and to fight racism and injustice, including violence against Black Americans.

Where and how they dedicated their money became the most visible signs of their priorities.

Since Floyd's murder in May 2020, America's 50 biggest public companies and their foundations have collectively committed at least $49.5 billion to addressing racial inequality — an amount that appears unequaled in sheer scale.

scale.

Looking deeper, more than 90 percent of that amount — $45.2 billion — is allocated as $40.2 Dillion — is allocated as loans or investments they could stand to profit from, more than half in the form of mortgages. Two banks — JPMorgan Chase and SEE PROMISES ON A18

IN THE NEWS

Crypto skeptic Treasury Secretary Janet L. Yellen's stance on digital currencies drew scrutiny amid her push for regulation. A16

House Jan. 6 panel seeks records Requests for materials from eight agencies signaled that a wide-ranging investigation is underway. A4

THE NATION
The amount of emergency rental aid distributed in July barely surpassed June's figures, according to Treasury Department data. A2 A court upheld Dylann A court upheld Dylann Roof's conviction and death sentence for the 2015 massacre in Charleston, S.C. A2 Sirhan B. Sirhan, who was convicted of assassi-nating Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in 1968, will face a parole board for the 16th time, with no opposition. A3

THE WORLD The Taliban's takeover

in Afghanistan could prompt a coronavirus crisis as vaccinations plummet, the United Nations warned. AIS The former comman er of the Colombian er of the Colombian army has been charged with murder for alleged-ly overseeing the killings of 104 civilians during its long civil war. A15 A delay in Vice Presi-dent Harris's Vietnam route allowed route allowed Beijing to undercut a planned U.S. annound ment on virus aid. A15

THE ECONOMY

navirus vaccinations or face weekly testing and a $200 monthly surcharge for health surcharge for health insurance. A16 More than 1,000 Nabisco workers in five states are going on strike. A20 Ten federal agencies plan to expand their use of facial recognition technology despite concerns, a GAO report showed. A20

THE REGION

THE REGION
Former offenders competed for D.C. grants to launch their firms in a "Shark Tank" style event. BI Thousands are expected to descend on the National Mall this passage of legislation on federal voting rights. B1 D.C. police fatally shot D.C. poince tatally shot an armed motorist who was awakened by offi-cers after falling asleep behind the wheel, in the city's second police shooting in nine hours. By weekend to demand

PJ Evans, an 8-vear-old was struck by a stray bullet Tuesday was remembered for his big heart and NFL support and NFL ambitions. Bi Several vaccinated members of Larry Ho-gan's staff have tested positive for the corona-virus, alarming leaders of a conference that the Maryland governor h recently attended. B4

INSIDE

LOCAL LIVING

A 'greener' clean Many household products claim to be environmentally friendly But do they work?

Kidman's career interesting? C1

0 70638 31100 7

LA DINASTÍA PALOMINO, LA PULSIÓN Y EL DESEO DE SER ARTISTAS

-espectáculos

Juan; su papá, José, y sus hijos Sofía y Aarón son requeridos por el cine, el teatroy la TV; tres generaciones de actores que exploran el origen del oficio que apareció sin querer.

LABERINTO DE LIBROS Y REVISTAS DE ARTE EN EL MODERNO

-cultur

La biblioteca del museo reabre con un diseño envolvente y una oferta de más de 7000 volúmenes y documentos; habrá salas de lectura y talleres. Página 25

LA NACION

JUEVES 26 DE AGOSTO DE 2021 | LANACION.COM.AR

Imputarán al Presidente por el festejo en Olivos

PANDEMIA. Es por haber incumplido las restricciones por el coronavirus durante el cumpleaños de su pareja; el abogado de Fernández quiere apurar el cierre de la causa

El presidente Alberto Fernández quedará imputado en la causa judicial en la que se investiga la violación de la cuarentena cometida en la quinta presidencial de Olivos, donde se celebró el cumpleaños de la primera dama, Fabiola Yañez, mientras regían duras restricciones.

El fiscal Ramiro González prepara un escrito para notificarle en las próximas 48 horas que está formalmente imputado en la causa, dijeron a LA NACION altas fuentes judiciales.

La imputación es el paso que espera Gregorio Dalbón, el abogado del Presidente, para poner en marcha su estrategia judicial, destinada a acelerar el cierre de la causa. Su respuesta será ofrecer una conciliación o reparación del daño, a través de la entregade parte del sueldo de Fernándeza cambio de extinguir la acción penal. El festejo del cumpleaños de Fabiola Yañez en la quinta presidencial fue el 14 de julio de 2020, cuando regía una prohibición para realizar reuniones sociales. Página 8

IRÁN

Cristina Kirchner volvió a pedir ayer su sobreseimiento en la causa por el pacto con Irán. Página 14

Aceleran la salida de Kabul y Blinken promete ayuda el mundo— KABUL (AP).- Con aviones que despegaban cada 39 minutos, la evacuación de civiles siguió ayer en el aeropuerto de Kabul, mientras miles permanecían cerca de esa estación (foto). Antony Blinken, secretario de Estado, dijo que no "hay fecha límite". Página 2

EL ESCENARIO

Las encuestas presagian un cisne negro

Carlos Pagni

uien examine el contexto de la actual disputa de poder, si no se deja sugestionar por los augurios dominantes sobre su resultado, tendrá la impresión de que es imposible que el oficialismo gane. Sin embargo, todos los pronósticos coinciden en que, si se la pudiera pensar como una competencia nacional, la carrera tendría undesenlacefavorable para el Frente de Todos. Continúa en la página 10

Demandan a la Argentina en EE.UU. por Aerolíneas

EXPROPIACIÓN. El fondo Titan Consortium presentó en un tribunal de Estados Unidos una demanda contra la Argentina por US$327 millones. Ese era el monto que el paísdebería haber pagado tras perder el juicio en el Ciadi por la expropiación de Aerolineas. Página 18

OPINIÓN

Cuatro futuros posibles para el país que viene

Daniel Montamat

Página 29

Activalo ahora desde la App Santander o desde un cajero automático.

Conocé más en santander.com.ar

LOS ACCIONISTAS DE BANCO SANTANDER RÍO S.A. NO RESPONDEN EN EXCESO DE SU INTEGRACIÓN ACCIONARIA.

FOLHA DE S.PAULO

HÁ 100 ANOS

UM JORNAL A SERVIÇO DA DEMOCRACIA

ANO 101 * Nº 33.748

QUINTA-FEIRA, 26 DE AGOSTO DE 2021

R$ 5.00

Pacheco refuta pedido de impeachment contra Moraes

O presidente do Senado, Rodrigo Pacheco (DEM-MG), rejeitou ontem o pedido de impeachment con-tra o ministro Alexandre de Moares, do Supremo Tribunal Federal, apresen-tado por Jair Bolsonaro. O gesto do presidente, no momento em que ele acirra sens ataques às insacirra seus ataques às ins-tituições e após decisão do STF de investigá-lo no inquérito das fake news, o deixou isolado. PoderA4

Total da população vacinada

	ao menos uma dose	totalmente vacinada
Brasil	61,7%	27,2 %
MS	72,3%	42,1%
SP	74,5%	34,1%
RS Totalme	67,2% ente vacinada	33,3%

100%	the Control
80
60	- 40
20

Números da pandemia

	Casos	Obitos
Total	20,6 mi	576,7 mil
Méd. mővel	26,7 mil	718
Variação	-16,1%	-20,2%
Em 24 h	30,0 mil	901
Dados das 201 única ou 1ª de ou 2ª dose *	se  Tomo	u dose única

Brasil vai adotar dose extra contra Covid em setembro

Nova rodada começa dia 15 para maiores de 70 no país; Doria quer vacinar dia 6

O ministro Marcelo Queiro-ga (Saúde) anunciou que o Brasil aplicará uma dose adi-cional da vacina contra Co-vid em pessoas acima de 70 anos e imunossuprimidas. A nova fase começa em 15 de setembro com quem tem 80 anos ou mais, e é preciso es-perar 180 dias após a segun-da dose (ou dose de Janssen).

Para imunossuprimidos, esse intervalo é de 21 dias. Horas após o anúncio, o governador de São Paulo, João Doria (PSDB), prome-teu antecipar a rodada para o dio 6 a incluir consegue fris o dia 6 e incluir sexagenári-os. Além disso, afirmou que aplicará uma de três vacinas disponíveis — Pfizer, Astra-zeneca ou Coronavac.

A decisão federal é usar nesse reforço exclusivamen-te o imunizante da Pfizer, importado (a Coronavac é feita no Instituto Butantan, ligado a Doria, e a Astrazeneca, na Fiocruz, fundação federal).

Diante da manifestação do tucano, o ministro respon-deu que faltará vacina se um estado burlar sua diretriz.

Mortes pela doença no pa-ís têm caído, mas a interna-ção de idosos sobe. saúde B1

Drauzio Varella

Falta de consenso guia debate sobre reforço cs

Estudo sem aval com proxalutamida em hospital militar no RS é apurado 82

Sérgio Rodrigues Paraolímpico ou paralímpico?

Embora haja especulação sobre uma tentativa de fugir de "olímpico" como marca registrada, não é claro por que em 1989, ao ser criada, a entidade má-xima do setor adotou a contração no nome —em inglês, "paralympic". O fa-to é que a impõe desde en-tão às afiliadas. cotidino B3

Esporte B6

Conduta de Caboclo

Advogados veem assédio sexual e discordam de comissão da CBF

Ciência B5

Fóssil de pterossauro confiscado é um dos mais bem preservados

Ilustrada C1

Livro 'Carcereiros' de Drauzio Varella, vira agora documentário

São Paulo pode ter recorde de calor, com refresco sexta

Cotidiano B3

Sequestro e roubo com Pix explodem no estado de SP

Laerte

VEM AT O 7 DE SETEMBRO

O presidente e o vice Hamilton Mourão, em Brasília; em meio a crise institucional, o comandante do Exército, Paulo Sérgio Nogueira de Oliveira, citou "anseios de tranquilidade" Poder A6

Bolsonaro reedita em 7/9 coalizão que o levou ao poder

Os atos em defesa de Jair Bolsonaro, marcados para o feriado de 7 de Setembro, devem reeditar grande par-te da coalizão de direita que o elegeu em 2018, apesar de interesses fragmentados. Estarão presentes evan-

Estarão presentes evan-gélicos, ruralistas, policiais, militares, caminhoneiros, monarquistas e ativistas.

Os grupos têm em comum apoio à reeleição do presi-dente e repúdio à volta da esquerda ao poder. Estão previstas concentrações em todas as capitais e principais cidades do interior. Poder A8

Congresso e STF cobram reforço na segurança para atos bolsonaristas A10

Presidente pede ao Exército que filha entre em colégio sem seleção

Jair Bolsonaro pediu ao comandante do Exército que dé tratamento especial à filha, Laura Bolsonaro, 10, pa-ra que ela seja matriculada no Colégio Militar de Brasília sem processo seletivo, informa Vinicius Sassine . Poder A6

Governo vai dar desconto na luz a quem economizar

O ministro de Minas e Energia, Bento Albuquerque, anunciou para setem-bro plano de desconto na conta de luz para clientes residenciais e empresaresidenciais e empresa-riais que topem poupar energia. A medida gerou críticas de que a economia pode ser pífia se não for compulsória. Mercado AIB

Justiça proíbe Piauí de publicar sobre Melhem

A Justiça do Rio de Janeiro proibiu a revista Piauí de publicar reportagem sobre os desdobramentos do ca-so de acusação de assédio envolvendo o humorista Marcius Melhem, ex-dire-tor da TV Globo. Poder A11

EDITORIAIS A2

O fardo de Lula

Para economistas, inflação poderá chegar a 8% no ano

A crise hídrica prolonga-da, a maior demanda por da, a maior demanda por serviços e os ruídos fiscais devem forçar novas revisões para cima nas estimativas de inflação do país.

Com isso, o IPCA pode fechar o ano com variação próxima de 8% no acumulado de 12 meses, dizem economistas. Mesedo 418

economistas. Mercado A19

Parque alvo de fogo não tinha plano de manejo

tinha piano de manejo Criado há 30 anos, o par-que Estadual do Juquery, na Grande SP, não possui documento técnico que norteia regras e gestão de recursos naturais. O fogo, no domingo, só foi extin-to na terça (24). Ciência B5

Sobre processos na Justi-ça e campanha eleitoral.

Via para a normalidade A respeito de passaporte da vacina em São Paulo.

Somos únicos, somos muitos, somos diferentes do que éramos ontem. Somos arquitetos do nosso próprio futuro. Juntos, estamos desenhando soluções que estão

Fale com nossos especialistas ou conheça as soluções para sua empresa em embratel.com.br

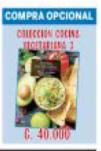

f in 🗸 📵 🖸 /embratel

ILTIMAHUK

Cuando se lo detuvo en 2004 tenía dinero oculto hasta en la ventanilla del baño

www.ultimahora.com

Kassem movía una montaña de dólares a la vista de todos

El Juzgado lo absolvió en el 2008 con el argumento de que no había suficientes elementos para sostener una condena. EEUU pide su extradición para procesarlo por lavado de dinero.

Ministros de la Corte con evaluadores Justicia defiende ante Gafilat su criticada actuación antilavado

Are XLVIII - Nº 36 588 - 64 pagnie - G. 7,000

PÁGINA 14

Ocurrió en San José de los Arroyos Terrible drama: Niña forzada a prostituirse perdió a su bebé

PÁGINA 58

Tensión en Medio Oriente Israel dice que régimen iraní tendrá la bomba nuclear en dos meses ejecutaron a tiros a dos personas. También un hombre sufrió fatal atentado.

PÁGINA 49

Esperan nuevas partidas para reiniciar aplicación de primera dosis

Salud apunta vacunar a 4 millones de personas con dosis para fin de año

PÁCINA 2

Bloquean informe a Seprelad y ley anticorrupción

Cámara de Diputados nuevamente conspira contra la transparencia

PÁCINA 6

lefigaro.fr

LEFIGARO

Sans la liberté de blâmer, il n'est point d'éloge flatteur » Beaumarchai

RÉCIT
BRITNEY SPEARS:
GLOIRE, EXCÈS, CHUTE
ET RÉSURRECTION PAGE 18

LE FIGARO LITTÈRAIRE CHALANDON, DEL AMO, DUGAIN... DES ROMANS À L'OMBRE DU PÈRE

L-ÉTÉ DU FIGARO

CES ÉCRIVAINS QUI AIMENT LA FRANCE MURIEL

BARBERY ET LA TOURAINE PAGE 20

LES GRANDES ERREURS ÉCONOMIQUES AVANT 14-18, LE PREMIER DÉCROCHAGE INDUSTRIEL FRANÇAIS

JEUX D'ÉTÉ PAGE 16

PRÉSIDENTIELLE La campagne se lance à l'ombre de la crise sanitaire

DROITE Éric Ciotti entre dans la danse de la primaire PAGE 8

FORMULE 1 Bertrand Gachot: « J'avais un plan pour m'évader de prison » PAGE 12

CHAMPSLIBRES

- La chronique de Luc Ferry
- L'analyse
 d'Armelle
 Bohineust PAGE 19

FIGARO OUI FIGARO NON

Réponses à la question de mercredi :

Faut-il «expulser en urgence absolue» les Afghans soupçonnés de liens avec les talibans, comme le demande Xavier Bertrand?

NON 9% OUI 91%

TOTAL DE VOTANTS: 239137

Votez aujourd'hui sur lefigaro.fr Faut-il rendre obligatoire la vaccination des personnels éducatifs?

IMAGO IMAGES/FUTURE IMAGE VIA REUTERS CONNECT

Blanquer fait le pari d'une rentrée scolaire « normale »

Le ministre de l'Éducation nationale doit tenir, ce jeudi, sa conférence de rentrée. À une semaine de la reprise des classes, il s'efforce de maintenir le cap d'une école ouverte, malgré le Covid.

Dans une semaine, le jeudi 2 septembre, 12 millions d'élèves français retrouveront le chemin de l'école. Fidèle au cap qu'il s'est fixé depuis le début de la pandémie, Jean-Michel Blanquer a prévu une rentrée « la plus normale possible », avec la mise en place de la vaccination pour les plus de 12 ans. C'est donc le niveau 2 du protocole, sur une échelle allant jusqu'à 4, qui va être appliqué dans toute la métropole. Ce choix de la souplesse suscite, chez les syndicats d'enseignants, la crainte de « perturbations » que les plus pessimistes prédisent pour les semaines à venir : les rezards sont tournés vers les Antilles, où l'intensité de l'épidémie a contraint le gouvernement à reporter de deux semaines le retour à l'école.

→ LES QUESTIONS QUI FÂCHENT → LA CINQUIÈME RENTRÉE D'UN MINISTRE À LA LONGÉVITÉ RECORD → LE CAPTEUR DE CO₂, UN OUTIL SIMPLE POUR SAVOIR QUAND AÉRER → ACCOMPAGNER LES ADOLESCENTS POUR ÉVITER LES FERMETURES DE CLASSES → LES PARENTS CIRCONSPECTS FACE AU VACCIN POUR LEURS ENFANTS PAGES 2 À 4 ET LE MENTE DE LA LIBERT DE LA CAPTEURIE.

Le bel été du tourisme en France

Malgré l'absence de visiteurs étrangers, la mauvaise météo et le passe sanitaire, les professionnels réalisent une bonne saison estivale grâce à un afflux massif des touristes français. PAGES 22 ET 23

À Kaboul, le compte à rebours du départ des Occidentaux est lancé

Le pont aérien s'accélère depuis que loe Biden a écarté en principe une prolongation des évacuations au-delà du 31 août. La France a annoncé que ses opérations cesseraient dès jeudi soir, pour des raisons de repli logistique. La Maison-Blanche a estimé mercredi à 82300 le nombre total d'évacués depuis le 15 août. Mais, comme l'a reconnu Dominic Raab, le chef de la diplomatie britannique, «tout le monde ne pourra pas partir». PAGE 9

ÉDITORIAL par Yves Thréard ythreard@lefigaro.fr

L'école, coûte que coûte

e tous les pays occidentaux, la France est celui qui a le moins fermé ses établissements scolaires depuis le début de l'épidémie. C'était le pari du ministre de l'Éducation nationale pour la rentrée 2020, et il fut tenu, à une semaine près, au printemps. C'est de nouveau le sien pour cele de 2021 alors que le coronavirus et son variant Delta rôdent toujours. Sauf dans certains territoires ultramarins, la réalité lui a donné raison jusqu'à maintenant. En dépit des critiques et mises en garde, cela n'a pas provoqué une explosion de Covid-19 dans la société plus inquiétante que chez nos voisins. Par ailleurs, une scolarisation suspendue ou à distance ne peut avoir que des effets désastreux sur le niveau et la psychologie d'enfants déjà déstabilisés par la crise sanitaire que nous traversons.

Une évolution capitale permet d'être encore plus optimiste pour le retour en classe, jeudi prochain. La vaccination des élèves âgés de 12 à 17 ans, bien avancée, devrait limiter la contagiosité. Elle va se poursuivre dans les établissements. Tout comme celle des enseignants, dont on peut se demander, à l'instar d'autres fonctionnaires qui sont aussi au contact du public, pourquoi elle n'a pas été rendue obligatoire. Jean-Michel Blanquer préfère miser sur la responsabilité des professeurs. Sans doute veut-il éviter une éventuelle polémique avec les puissants syndicats de l'Éducation nationale, à quelques mois de l'usculici la présidentielle.

Jusqu'ici le pari s'est révélé gagnant la présidentielle. Un protocole, somme toute léger, sera présenté ce jeudi pour rassurer les parents. Il ne fera pas l'unanimité, suscitera nombre d'interrogations. On regrettera surtout que gagnant On regrettera surtout que les établissements n'aient pas été équipés, comme souvent à l'étranger, de capteurs de CO₂ ou de purificateurs d'air. L'opération, certes coûteuse, aurait été salutaire.

Jean-Michel Blanquer battra-t-ille record de longévité de Christian Fouchet, établi dans les années 1960 au ministère de l'Éducation nationale? N'était la barbe qui orne à présent son visage, l'homme n'a jamais changé face à la pandémie : sa volonté de maintenir l'école ouverte, non pas quoi qu'il en coûte mais coûte que coûte, peut être saluée. ■

Les enfants ont tous le même langage pour dire « l'espoir ».

Depuis toujours, d'où qu'ils viennent, ils le dessinent, rond comme un soleil, ils savent le faire rayonner par-delà les frontières pour le partager avec ceux qui ont le plus besoin de soins.

Oui, comme les enfants, nous pouvons tous passer l'espoir et c'est cette Chaîne de l'Espoir qui, chaque année, soigne, opère et sauve 235 000 enfants dans 27 pays.

Soyez aux côtés des enfants. Faites un don sur www.chainedelespoir.org

56, rue des Morillons | CS 17938 | 75730 Paris Cedex 15 | Tel : 01 44 12 66 66

Can this woman change the way we work? → Page 14

26 August 2021

Guardina From £1.75 for subscribers

From £1.75 for subscribers

For 200 years

1 and 1 an

Head for the border, UK tells Afghans trying to flee

Dan Sabbagh Aubrey Allegretti Julian Borger

Afghans who want to flee to Britain may be better off "trying to get to the border" than awaiting RAF evacuation, the defence secretary said as UK troops made last-ditch attempts to airlift at least 1,500 remaining interpreters and others who have supported the UK.

In a briefing to MPs, Ben Wallace signalled there were few places left on British rescue flights, which have evacuated more than 11,000 people from Kabul since the Taliban takeover of Afghanistan less than two weeks ago.

More than 80,000 people have been airlifted by western forces, with the US saying yesterday planes were taking off almost every half hour from Kabul airport. In 24 hours, 19,000 people were flown out on 90 planes as part of an operation that could surpass the 1975 evacuation of Saigon to become the biggest airlift in history.

It came as UK defence sources voiced concerns over the "high risk of a terrorist attack", particularly a suicide bombing by the group known as Isis-K. Extra security measures, including concrete barriers, have been installed around the evacuation processing centre by the airport.

In a sometimes fraught online meeting with MPs, the defence secretary was questioned about what Afghans who have been offered student places or fellowships in the UK should do, "If they think they can make it to a third country, that may be a better option," Wallace said.

Pressed by the Conservative backbencher Julian Lewis, Wallace added: "I recommend that they try and make it to the border that way ... because it is higher profile going to the airport - that is where the Taliban will be focusing efforts at the moment." There was no suggestion Afghans told by western officials to travel to the airport for evacuation should alter that plan, however.

UK evacuation efforts are now concentrated on the Afghan interpreters and others who worked for the British government, who have the right to resettlement under the Afghan relocations and assistance policy (Arap). "The number of Arap people we still have to

PHOTOGRAPH: KIYOSHI OTA/GET

'Nobody's coming' Britons

trapped in Kabul's crowds

Amelia Gentleman Lisa O'Carroll

For the past four days, Nangyalai, a 42-year-old minicab driver from south London, has been with his wife and 11-month-old baby outside the Baron hotel on the edge of Kabul airport, trying to get close enough to the gate to show his British passport.

There is a sign by the gate saying "British passport holders only". Inside the hotel, officials are working to grant evacuation visas for thousands of UK nationals and Afghan

Black people 'likely to be Tasered for longer'

Vikram Dodd

Crime correspondent

The police use of Tasers faces harsh scrutiny after an official report found officers deployed Taser stunguns too often, with black people more likely to face prolonged use.

The study by the Independent Office for Police Conduct (IOPC) warned of a loss of legitimacy after a review of 101 cases of Taser use it investigated from 2015-20, which the watchdog assessed to be the most serious cases.

They represent a fraction of uses of Taser by officers in that time, which numbered more than 94,000, and of which the police watchdog said there were cases of officers using it well.

Police chiefs attacked the findings as vague and out of date. Commu-nity groups said officers misusing the weapon were getting away with it. Amnesty International said the alleged misuse of stun guns by British police was a human rights issue.

Before the report it was known that black people, who make up less than 4% of the UK population, faced greater Taser use, leading to claims of racial bias. The IOPC said of the 101 cases it studied, it

