FTWeekend

USA $3.00 Canada C$3.50 SATURDAY 23 OCTOBER / SUNDAY 24 OCTOBER 2021

US warns business over China links

Washington says data and tech harvested • 'Legal and illegal' methods highlighted

DEMETRI SEVASTOPULO — WASHINGTON

US intelligence officials have launched a campaign to warn American companies about the risks of interacting with China in critical industries, in a push to make it harder for Beijing to obtain technology

The National Counterintelligence and The National Counterintelligence and Security Center seeks to raise awareness about links that Chinese companies have with government, military and intelligence services. The effort targets five sectors: artificial intelligence, quan-tum computing, biotechnology, semi-conductors and autonomous systems. Michael Orlando, acting director of the NCSC, a branch of the US intelli-gence community focusing on Chinese threats, told reporters that Beijing was "using an array of legal, illegal and quasi-legal" methods to obtain intellec-tual property and data on American citi-zens that it would use to try to dominate critical industries. Orlando and his team are contacting

Orlando and his team are contacting US companies. He said many businesses were not aware of the direct and hidden links between chinese companies and universities and state security, or that Beijing was using a "whole of govern-ment approach" to obtain technology. China is, for example, using a "civil-military fusion" programme to force companies to share technology with the military and intelligence services, US officials say. Beljing has also introduced laws that make it easier to secure access to private data.

"People are not digesting this," said Orlando, who stressed that Washington was not telling companies not to do business with China. "If you are going to do business with China." If you are going to the business and coll-bargate he smart.

do business and collaborate, be smart about it."

aboutt."

American officials have increasingly voiced concerns about China as it closes the gap with the US in industries such as AI and shows signs of pulling ahead in areas such as hypersonic weapons. Orlando said quantum computing was

The campaign warns American business about ties between companies, universities and state security in China an example of where the US had to ensure American companies were not helping Chinese groups make gains that would help them break the encryption codes used by US intelligence agencies. Edward You, national counter-intelligence officer for emerging and disruptive technologies, said biotechnology was an important area because of China's push to obtain healthcare data on US citizens. He said there was a danger that China would obtain complete data sets on American citizens. "You cannot change [your DNA] like a pin code," he said. "They're on a path to developing the world's largest data set." China weapon threat page 2

Indra Nooyi Former Pepsi chief has Lunch with the FT

On tour with Eddy Merckx, the world's greatest cyclist TRAVEL

Trail of destruction Russian mercenaries in Africa

Antique antics A millennial obsession

HOUSE & HOME

Crypto fever Flying start for bitcoin ETF

Bitcoin surged to a record high above $66,000 this week, more than doubling in prices since a low point in July as mainstream financial markets raced to throw open their doors to the cryptocurrency industry.

The main driver was the launch of the first US exchange traded bitcoin fund, attracting more than $15n of investor cash. It was the first time regular investors could hold a US-listed bitcoin-linked security in their portfolios along-sides tocks and bonds.

But crypto backers still face a hard battle persuading regulators to embrace the "Wild West" of crypto exchanges.

Hot demand on Wall Street page 13

Facebook numbers game stirs advertisers' doubts

Facebook's bid to maintain a growing number of users by encouraging them to open multiple accounts is putting its main income at risk. Advertising hit S29bn in the last quarter, up 56 per cent. But pressure from marketers for third-party verification of the numbers has intensified after a haul of internal documents. One showed there are more accounts for 18 to 30-year-olds than actual people in the demographic, deeming this the 'elephant in the room'. Thumbs down > PAGE 10

Subscribe in print and online

www.ft.com/subsusa Tel: 1 800 628 8088

© THE FINANCIAL TIMES LTD 2021 No: 40,846 ★

Plume of leaking methane near COP26 venue underlines emissions challenge

LESLIE HOOK, CAMILLA HODGSON AND STEVEN BERNARD — LONDON

A powerful greenhouse gas responsible for 40 per cent of the world's warming over the past decade is spewing into the atmosphere from a site in Glasgow not far from where the COP26 climate sum-mit is set to begin next weekend.

Methane from a gas pipeline near Ibrox football stadium, a 25-minute walk football stadium, a 25-minute walk from the conference centre, is leakingat a rate equivalent to 50 tonnes a year, the same as the emissions of 500 cows, researchers from Royal Holloway, Uni-versity of London, estimated. "It was strikingly larger than the other leaks we saw," said Rebecca Fisher, the academic who found the Invisible plume using car-mounted measuring instruments. "It really stood out." Methane will be the top priority at

STOCK MARKETS

COP26, as delegates will be asked for the COP26, as delegates will be asked for the first time to sign up to a major pledge to slash emissions across the globe.

The leak near the COP26 venue shows that methane emissions are often from mundane sources. After driving 350km around Scotland's biggest city, Fisher found emissions every four kilometres on average, including four classed as large or medium sized.

"That's use as that's wasted" she arge or medium sized.

"That's just gas that's wasted," she said. "Gas leaks are probably the easiest ones to fix compared with the other ones to fix compared with the other anthropogenic sources of methane."

The proposed methane commitment, backed by the US and EU, has gained support from 35 countries that have pledged to cut emissions by 30 per cent over the next decade, although China, Russia and India have yet to sign up. Cutting methane emissions was "the single fastest strategy we have" to limit global warming to the 1.5C level, accord-ing to John Kerry, the US climate envoy. Methane is about 80 times more potent than carbon dioxide in terms of pound-for-pound warming potential over a 20-year period. But because it remains in the atmosphere for only about a decade, while CO2 can remain for a century or were certifum methane. for a century or more, cutting methane emissions can have a quicker effect on temperatures.

Methane is the main ingredient in Methane is the main ingredient in natural gas, and fossil fuels account for about 35 per cent of human-caused emissions. Waste and landfill account for about 40 per cent. SGN, the distribution company that operates Glasgow's pipelines, said it planned to fix the Ibrox leak but that it could not switch off the gas immediately and maintain customer supply.

INTEREST RATES

World Markets

S8P 500	4531.76	4549.78	-0.40	$ per 6	1.165	1.165	£ per $	0.726	0.724	US Gov 10 yr	147.58	1.63	-0.0
Nasdaq Composite	15056.31	15215.70	-1.05	$ per £	1.377	1.382	€per£	1.183	1.187	UK Gov 10 yr		1.06	-0.0
Dow Jones Ind	35583.10	35603.08	-0.06	£ per €	0.846	0.843	¥ per €	132.298	132.619	Ger Gov 10 yr		-0.11	-0.0
FTSEurofirst 300	1827.77	1819.07	0.48	¥ per $	113.585	113.875	£ index	82.667	82,605	Jpn Gov 10 yr	115.06	0.09	0.0
Euro Stoxx 50	4190.89	4155.73	0.85	¥ per £	156.450	157.382	SFr per £	1.262	1.288	US Gov 30 yr	116.09	2.07	-0.0
FTSE 100	7204.55	7190.30	0.20	SFr per €	1.067	1.069				Ger Gov 2 yr	104.97	-0.65	-0.0
FTSE All-Share	4108.91	4102.33	0.16	€ per$	0.859	0.859
CAC 40	6733.69	6686.17	0.71
Xetra Dax	15542.98	15472.56	0.46	COMMODITIES							price	prev	ch
Nikkei	28804.85	28708.58	0.34							Fed Funds Eff	0.08	0.09	-0.0
Hang Seng	26126.93	26017.53	0.42			0	ct 22	prev	%chg	US 3m Bills	0.06	0.05	0.0
MSCI World $	3152.33	3147.70	0.15	Dil WTI $			83.16	82.50	0.80	Euro Libor 3m	-0.56	-0.57	0.0
MSCI EM $	1293.00	1301.13	-0.62	Oil Brent	S		85.09	84.61	0.57	UK 3m	0.21	0.21	0.0
MSCI ACWI $	742.49	742.08	0.06	Gold $		17	79.30	1778.00	0.07	Prices are letest for edition	Data prav	vided by Ma	erningst

What does success mean to you?

We've been helping successful people and their businesses, in good times and bad, since 1896.

lefigaro.fr

REPORTAGE AU CAMBODGE, LA PAIX RÈGNE, MAIS LA DÉMOCRATIE SE FAIT ATTENDRE PAGE 15

EDOUARD BAER «LE THÉÂTRE. C'EST L'EXACT CONTRAIRE DU NUMÉRIQUE »

GAUCHE À Lille, Hidalgo veut enfin décoller

BRUXELLES Les adieux amers d'Angela Merkel à une Europe fissurée PAGE 7

COVID-19 La Chine ouvre un centre de quarantaine ultramoderne

ESPIONNAGE Pegasus : la France demande «des garanties» à Israël PAGE 9

SANTÉ La prise en charge du handicap fait face à une crise inédite PAGE II

FOOTBALL Pourquoi l'OM et Marseille vibrent à nouveau pour le ballon rond PAGE 13

NUMÉRIQUE Amazon compterait 1.4 million d'abonnés à son offre Ligue 1

CHAMPS

- La chronique de Mathieu Bock-Côté
- La tribune de Pierre Egéa

Réponses à la question

de vendredi : Présidentielle faites-vous confiance au CSA pour faire respecter l'équilibre du temps de parole dans les médias?

TOTAL DE VOTANTS: 99 527

Votez aujourd'hui sur lefigaro.fr

Approuvez-vous «l'indemnité inflation» de 100 euros décidée par le gouvernement?

Pourquoi Macron a opté pour le «chèque inflation»

L'exécutif a annoncé une prime de 100 euros destinée à 38 millions de Français pour faire face notamment à la hausse des carburants. Une mesure «juste et ciblée», selon le chef de l'État.

Après une semaine de tergiversations, le gouvernement a fini par trancher. Le premier ministre Jean Castex a annon-cé jeudi soir, sur TF1, la mise en place d'une indemnité de

100 euros pour notamment compenser la forte hausse du prix des carburants. Cette aide sera versée une fois, entre fin décembre et février, aux salariés qui gagnent moins de

2 000 euros net par mois, aux retraités les plus modestes et aux étudiants boursiers. Face aux critiques de ses oppo-sants, qui déplorent un coup de pouce peu pérenne et trop coûteux, Emmanuel Macron a défendu une mesure « plus juste et mieux ciblée » que la baisse des taxes, un temps en-visagée. Pour le chef de l'État, il s'agissait avant tout de pri-

vilégier un dispositif simple et rapidement applicable afin de prévenir toute résurgence d'une grogne sociale type « gilets jaunes » à six mois de l'élection présidentielle

→ LES OPPOSITIONS PAS CONVAINCUES PAR LES ANNONCES DU PREMIER MINISTRE → PLUS DE 25 MILLIARDS EN QUATRE MOIS DE DÉPENSES NOUVELLES → BÉNÉFICIAIRES, CALENDRIER... CE QU'IL FAUT SAVOIR → POURQUOI LES PRIX À LA POMPE BATTENT DES RECORDS PAGES 2, 4 ET L'ÉDITORIAL

le monde de l'art retrouve ses marques et un marché florissant au Grand Palais éphémère. PAGES 28 ET

La France à la conquête des richesses des fonds marins

Emmanuel Macron a fait de l'exploration des «grands fonds marins» l'un des dix objectifs du plan France 2030. Les minerais et les métaux rares, indispensables pour la fabrication d'éoliennes, de voitures, de téléphones et bien d'autres cho-ses, tapissent les sols des océans. La France, deuxième puissance maritime mondiale, a de réels atouts. Les permis d'exploration minière toutefois sévèrement régle-mentés et l'exploitation s'avérera technologiquement très complexe. PAGES 20 ET 21

ÉDITORIAL par Gaëtan de Capèle gdecapele@lefigaro.fr

Au pays de l'assistance

oyons honnêtes : quoi qu'il ait annoncé jeudi soir à la télévision, Jean Castex était condamné par avance au bûcher. Trop peu, trop cher, trop tard... L'unanimité poli-tique sur la nécessité d'alléger la facture énergétique des Français n'a pas résisté longtemps aux petits jeux politiciens. À dire vrai, s'il existait une solution miracle pour résoudre le problème de la flambée des prix de l'énergie, cela se saurait. Reconnaissons au premier ministre - maigre consolation d'avoir sans doute choisi la moins mauvai-se : un chèque simple et sans condition à 38 millions de Français plutôt qu'une baisse des taxes aux effets invisibles. Le versement d'une « indemnité inflation » n'en marque pas moins une étape supplé-mentaire dans le dérèglement complet de notre politique économique. D'abord, par-ce qu'elle ne correspond à aucune situation d'urgence, mais plutôt à un « ressenti» : en dépit de la flambée des tarifs de l'énergie, la hausse générale des prix reste de l'ordre de 2% à en croire l'Insee - un institut indépendant du pouvoir politique. Ensuite, parce que la dépense publique n'a plus de limite: plus de 10 milliards d'euros ont été engagés en quelques jours sur le seul sujet énergétique. Enfin, parce que ces aides ponctuelles sont autant de cautères sur une jambe de bois: elles ne résolvenet en rien les problèmes de prix ou d'approvisionne ment. Plus que tout, le concept d'« indemnité in-

La tolérance au moindre aléa de la flation» consacre l'avènement d'une société sous assistance permanente. Au fur et à mesure vie disparaît que le parapluie de l'État se déploie disparaît la tolérance au moindre aléa de la vie. Parfois, la France, qui fut une grande puissance mondiale, s'interroge avec an-goisse sur les raisons de son décrochage. Entre le funeste principe de précaution, qui corsète l'innovation, interdit toute prise de risque, et le principe d'indemnisation gé-néralisée, qui surprotège en encourageant toutes les formes de revendications, nul besoin d'une grande introspection.

: 3.20 € - BEL : 3.€ - CH : 4.20 FS - CAN : 5.70 5C - D : 3.60 € - A : 3.60 € - ESP : 3.20 € - Canaries : 3.20 € - GB : 2.90 € - GR : 3.40 € - DOM : 3.20 € - ITA : 3.30 € : 3.€ - NL : 3.40 € - PORT.CONT : 3.30 € - MAR : 23 DH - TUN : 4.40 DT - ZONE CFA : 2.400 CFA : ISSN 0182.5852

1023 - F: 3.00

DOW JONES | News Corps * * * * * * *

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL WEEKEND SATURDAY/SUNDAY, OCTOBER 23 - 24, 2021 ~ VOL. CCLXXVIII NO. 97

WSJ.com

* $6.00

What's News

World-Wide

The Supreme Court agreed to quickly consider two lawsuits challenging a Texas ban on most abortions but left the restrictive law in place for now. A1

- The FDA said the Covid-19 vaccine from Pfizer and BioNTech met the agency's criteria for immune responses in a study in children ages 5 to 11 years. A8
- ◆ Democrats worked to resolve disagreements over tax increases and ex-panded healthcare cover-age in their social policy and climate framework. A4
- The U.S. incurred the sec ond-largest budget deficit on record in the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, reflecting government expenditures tied to the pandemic. A4
- Former Giuliani associate Lev Parnas was convicted of campaign-finance charges, capping the fall of a key figure in the first impeachment of Trump. A4
- ◆ The U.S.'s top counterintelligence official said he is narrowing his team's focus to safeguarding five key technologies, including semiconductors and biotech. A7
- ◆ An investigation continued into the incident in which Alec Baldwin discharged a prop firearm on a movie set, killing the film's cinematographer and injuring the director. A3

Business & Finance

- ◆ Google takes a cut of 22% to 42% of U.S. ad spending that goes through its systems, according to a newly unredacted lawsuit by state attorneys general, shedding new light on how it profits from its commanding position in the internet economy. A1
- Apple's privacy change on how users are tracked on mobile devices is starting to disrupt the online ad mar-ket, hurting e-commerce players and creating chal-lenges for some tech firms. BI
- Shares of a blank-check company tied to Trump's new online network surged again amid a buying frenzy fueled by individual investors on social media. A1
- ◆ The Fed's Powell indicated
- ◆ The Dow added 0.2% to close at a record, while the S&P 500 and Nasdaq fell 0.1% and 0.8%, respectively. B12
- ◆ Goldman is giving CEO Solomon and President Waldron one-time stock bonuses designed to keep them at the bank's helm. B11

NOONAN

Colin Powell's Great American Journey A15

Merkel Draws Tributes in Possible Farewell to EU Summitry

AMITY: Angela Merkel talks with French President Emmanuel Macron Friday at the European Union summit in Brussels. The departing German chancellor was praised at what could be her final appearance at a meeting of the bloc's leaders. A10

Google Charges Over Twice Its Rivals in Ad Fees, Suit Shows

Google takes a cut of 22% to 42% of U.S. ad spending that goes through its systems, according to a newly unredacted lawsuit by state attorneys general, shedding new light on how the search giant profits from its commanding position in the internet economy.

The share the Alphabet Inc.

subsidiary takes of each advertising transaction on its exchange—a marketplace for ad buyers and sellers—is typically two to four times as much as the fees charged by rival digital advertising exchanges, according to the suit, which is being led by Texas.

The unredacted filing on Friday in the U.S. District Court of the Southern District Of New York came after a federal judge ruled last week that much of the antitrust suit could be unsealed.

"[T]he analogy would be if Goldman or Citibank owned the NYSE," said one senior Google employee quoted in the suit, referring to the New York Stock Exchange.

Google has called the law-

Stock Exchange.
Google has called the law-suit flawed. "This lawsuit is riddled with inaccuracies and our ad tech fees are actually lower than reported industry averages," said Peter Schottenfels, a Google spokesman.

The suit alleges the company has deployed strategies to "lock in" publishers and advertisers and help the company's ad-buying tools win more than 80% of auctions on its exchange a yearly revealed. its exchange, a newly revealed figure. It gives a window into Google's overwhelming domi-Please turn to page A8

Apple's privacy change disrupts ad market......

Top Court To Hear Texas Abortion Challenge

Justices will quickly weigh two suits, leave restrictive law in place, adding to pivotal term

WASHINGTON-The WASHINGTON—The Su-preme Court on Friday agreed to quickly consider two law-suits challenging a Texas ban on most abortions but left the restrictive law in place for now, adding a new blockbuster bat-tle to a docket that already in-cluded another major abortion-rights case.

The court set oral arguments for Nov. 1 but deferred acting on an emergency request from

The court set oral arguments for Nov. 1 but deferred acting on an emergency request from the Justice Department to block the Texas law while the federal government challenges its legality. The Texas limits, the most restrictive in the U.S., have been in effect for nearly two months.

The case adds more urgency to a Supreme Court term that already was shaping up to be a momentous one for the future of abortion law. The justices in December will review an appeal by the state of Mississippi, which is seeking to implement an abortion ban after 15 weeks of pregnancy.

Both states are seeking to roll back precedents protecting abortion rights, starting with the 1973 Roe v. Wade decision. The high court for years declined to entertain such requests, but Republican-led states have been more willing to test the issue after recent Please turn to page A2

Facebook Increasingly Acts To Squelch Political Groups

By Jeff Horwitz And Justin Scheck

After the Jan. 6 Capitol riot, far-right activists launched an online campaign to form what they called a Patriot Party as an alternative to the Republi-an alternative to the Republi-can Party.

Facebook Inc. worked to kill it, citing information it said showed the movement was be-ing pushed by white national-ists and self-styled militias who had worked to instigate the riot, according to internal company documents reviewed by The Wall Street Journal.
Facebook engineers made it harder for organizers to share

Musician's

Online Career

Is a Bit Flat

the facebook files 🔁

Patriot Party content, re-stricted the visibility of groups connected to the movement and limited "super-inviters" from recruiting new adher-ents, according to a March re-

ents, according to the surface of th of a strategy Facebook ad-opted early this year to stop what it calls "harmful commu-nities" from gaining traction on its platform before they spread too far. Rather than just taking action against posts that violate its rules, or that originate with actors such that originate with actors such as Russia-based trolls, Face-book began putting its thumb on the scale against communi-ties it deemed to be a prob-lem. In April, based on the same policy, it took aim at a German conspiracy movement same policy, it took aim at a German conspiracy movement called Querdenken.

Internal Facebook documents, part of an array of company communications reviewed by the Journal for its Facebook Files series, show that people inside the company have long discussed a Please turn to page A12

Arrests at Border Set Record

The Border Patrol made about 1.66 million arrests of migrants crossing the U.S.-Mexico border illegally in the 2021 fiscal year, the highest annual number ever recorded. A2

Monthly migrant arrests along the U.S.-Mexico border

Building an audience is easier than getting rich

By Meghan Bobrowsky

Electronic music producer Lorenzo Mitchell dropped out of college a couple of years ago to seek his fortune through social media. So far, he's made under $70.

"I was a little overambitious," said Mr. Mitchell, who is 21 years old and lives at home with his family in San Antonio.

r. Please turn to page A11

EXCHANGE

SHOT CHASERS

The unlikely outsiders who won the race to the Covid vaccine

Trump SPAC Swept Up in GameStop-Like Frenzy

By Amrith Ramkumar And Caitlin Ostroff

AND CAPTLIN OSTROFF

Shares of a blank-check company tied to Donald Trump's new online network surged again Friday, implying a valuation of several billion dollars for the new firm following a buying frenzy fueled by individual investors on social media.

Digital World Acquisition Corp. shares more than doubled to $94.20 on Priday after trading as high as $175. Trading in the stock was heavy, prompting a number of brief Please turn to page 44

Vaccine or Get Fired? These Nurses Say No

They distrust the system, fear long-term health effects and bristle at mandates

By SARAH TOY

BY SARAH TOY

Carole Funk gets a flu shot most years and is up-to-date on all other vaccines. She refuses to get the Covid-19 shot. A nurse practitioner for nearly 10 years, she believes Covid-19 can kill—she knows people who have died. Still, she lost her job running an urgent-care clinic in Strasburg, Va., in September due to her refusal to vaccinate, and remains unmoved. "Getting fired is not enough for me to overcome my fear that the side effects or adverse events of fects or adverse events of these vaccines are grossly underreported," Ms. Funk said. Ms. Funk, 50 years old, is among more than 200 workers at Virginia and West Virginia-based Valley Health System who resigned or were fired over requirements that the company's 6,200 employees be vaccinated. They belong to a group of people who have made up their minds Please turn to page AII

Pfizer, BioNTech say shot is safe in 5-to-11 age group... A8

VOL. CLXXI ... No. 59,221

Misinformation

Tripped Alarms

Inside Facebook

and SHEERA FRENKEL.

Sixteen months before last November's presidential election, a researcher at Facebook described an alarming development.
She was getting content about the conspiracy theory QAnon within a week of opening an experimental account, she wrote in an internal report.

account, she wrote in an internal report.

On Nov. 5, two days after the election, another Facebook em-ployee posted a message alerting colleagues that comments with "combustible election misinfor-mation" were visible below many posts.

"combustible election misinformation" were visible below many posts.

Four days after that, a company data scientist wrote in a note to his co-workers that 10 percent of all U.S. views of political material—a startlingly high figure—were of posts that alleged the vote was fraudulent. asse, Facebook's employees sounded an alarm about misinformation and inflammatory content on the platform and urged action—but the company failed or struggled to address the issues. The internal dispatches were among a set of Facebook documents obtained by The New York Times that give new insight into what happened inside the so comment of the political structure of the company was caught flat-footed as users weaponized its platform to spread lies about the vote.

Facebook has publicly blamed the poliferation of election false-hoods on former President Donald J. Trump and other social platforms. In mid-January, Sheryl Sandberg, Facebook's chief operathe Capitol was "largely organized on platforms that don't have our abilities to stop hate."

Mark Zuckerberg, Facebook's chief operather company was caught our part to secure the integrity of our election."

But the company documents show the degree to which Face

This article is by Matt Flegen-heimer, Michael Rothfeld and Jef-fery C. Mays.

Eric Adams could not resist the story.

In a 2019 commencement address, Mr. Adams complained that a neighbor's dog kept befouling his yard — no matter how polite he was to the owner, no matter his standing as Brooklyn's borough president. Then a pastor gave him an idea. Mr. Adams slipped on a hoode, and the propersident of the production of the pro

Eric Adams at an event in Midtown on Thursday. The former police officer has run a disciplined campaign and is on the cusp of becoming New York's r politely, he said. After that, the dog stayed away.

"Let people know you are not the one to mess with," he advised the predominantly Black graduating class at Medgar Evers Sollege in Brooklyn. He closed with a prediction for those who said he would never be mayor: "I'm going to put my hoodie on, and I'm going to make it happen."

That electoral prophecy might well hold up. The story does not. It was the pastor, Robert Waterman, who actually had the neighbor with the dog and the confrontation at the door, both men

"The Book of Mormon" was revised after Black actors, including Kim Exum, expressed concerns.

Racism Protests Change the Script on Broadway

shamanic Rafiki as a monkey — taxonomically correct, since the character is a mandrill — have been excised because of potential racial overtones, given that the role is played by a Black woman. "The Book of Mormon," a musical comedy from the creators of "South Park" that gleefully teeters between outrageous and offensive, has gone even further. The show, about two wide-eyed white missionaries trying to save

Who Is Eric Adams? No One Knows, but He's Probably a Winner.

Political Wild Card

Who Says 'I Am You'

said in interviews. Mr. Adams just liked how it sounded. "It was a great story! I heard," he told The New York Times recently, "Theard him preach, and I told him, 'I'm going to tell that story." With Mr. Adams, 61, now poised to become New York City's next mayor, the episode at once reflects his political supervision of the political greatest potential vulnerability: a

NEWS ANALYSIS

Biden Finds

The Consequences of

By MICHAEL D. SHEAR

By MICHAEL D. SHEAR

WASHINGTON — Joe Biden's pitch during the 2020 campaign
pitch during the 2020 campaign
Trump was simple: Trade in a stubborn, immovable leader for one with a proven record of taking half a load when a full one is out of reach.

That approach appears to have brought Mr. Biden to the precipice of victory on a $2 trillion deal that could begin to define
deal that could begin to define office legislative architect, one who is reshaping government spending and doing so by the narrowest of margins in a country with deep partisan and ideological chasms.

But the bill is certain to be far try with deep partisan and ideological chasms.

But the bill is certain to be far smaller than what he originally proposed, and far less ambitious than he and many of his allies had hoped. It won't make him the one who finally secured free community college for everyone. Seniors won't get free dental, hearing and vision coverage from Medicare. And there won't be a new system of penalties for the worst polluters.

"Look — hey, look, it's all about compromise," Mr. Biden said at a CNN town hall meeting on Thursday, shrugging off the doubters as he sought to close the deal with lawmakers and the public.

But accepting less and calling

But accepting less and calling a win has its limits — and ensequences it a win has its limits — and consequences.

By spending the last several months pushing for an even larger and more ambitious agenda, knowing that he would most likely have to pare it back, Mr. Biden has let down some supporters who believed he

Continued on Page 16

Vetting Flagged Dozens Fleeing Rule of Taliban

By CHARLIE SAVAGE

By CHARLIE SAVAGE

WASHINGTON — Two months after the evacuation of 80,000 Afghans fleeing the Tailban take-over, most have cleared subsequent vetting for admission into the United States. Some initially raised possible security issues — ewith terrorism suspects — but were absolved on closer scrutiny.

But several dozen have been red-flagged, despite having helped the United States during its 20-year war in Afghanistan, because screenings uncovered apparent records of violent crime or links to Islamist militants that follow-up evaluations have not cleared, officials said. The derogatory information has raised the question of the interest of the still-flagged evacuees — some with relatives — to Camp Bondsteel, a NATO base in Kosovo, which agreed to let Afghans be housed there for up to a year if they stayed on the base. They are designated as requiring further investigation, and no final decision has been about whether they will receive permission to enter the United States, officials said.

But in an acknowledgment tha manny are likely to be barred from Continued on Page 8 ify the satire. Broadway is back. But as shows resume performance after the long pandemic shutdown, some of the biggest plays and musicals are Continued on Page 24

Recalling a Day of Loss

Vanessa Bryant was questioned in her lawsuit over images of remains from the crash that killed Kobe Bryant and their daughter Gianna. PAGE 35

SUNDAY BUSINESS

Showing Up Matters

Surprise Ending

The children's publisher Scholastic had been a family empire until an executive, lole Lucchese, was given control. PAGE 1

Even Victory Has Its Costs

Political Compromise

UNPOPULARITY Behind President Biden's low approval ratings is a pessimistic electorate. PAGE 16

She's a Pioneer In Space. China Sent Cosmetics.

comfort with public shape-shift-ing that would make him the big-gest City Hall wild card in dec-ades. He propagates and discards narratives about himself, rarely sweating the details.

His highest principle can ap-pear to be the perpetuation of the Eric Adams story, one that he hopes will deliver him from a streetwise childhood in Brooklyn streetwise childhood in Brooklyn and Queens to the seat of power in Lower Manhattan. He speaks with almost spiritual zeal about his personal evolution — he is a meditating, globe-trotting, vegan Continued on Page 22

By STEVEN LEE MYERS

By STEVEN LEE MYERS

Col. Wang Yaping is a pilot in the People's Liberation Army's Air Force. She is a space veteran, now making her second trip into orbit. She is set in the coming weeks to be the first Chinese woman to walk in space as China's space station glides around Earth at 17,100 miles per hour.

And yet, as she began a sixmouth mission last week at the program, official and news media attention fixated as much on the comparative physiology of men and women, menstruation cycles and the 5-year-old daughter she has left behind as they did on her accomplishments. (No one asked about the children of her two male colleagues.)

Shortly before the launch, Pang Zhinao, an official with the China National Space Administration, such as a special page of the continuity of the property of the continuity of the program of the pro

kins and cosmetics.
"Female astronauts may be in better condition after putting on makeup," he said in remarks shown on CCTV, the state television network let Wang is a model of gender equality in a country where Ma Zedong famously said Continued on Page 12

INTERNATIONAL 4-12

Long Arm of Russian Law The arrest of a small religious group's leader in Siberia shows that repression reaches even far-flung areas. PAGE 10

The Difficulty of Going Home

Thousands of Afghans who were in India when the country collapsed are now desperate to return. PAGE 4

Farewell to the Chief

Over four days in Montana, members of the Blackfeet Nation honored Chief Earl Old Person, who had led the tribe for over 60 years before he died. PAGE 13

METROPOLITAN

He Saw the Overlooked

template for a media empire.

A Dilemma in Harlem

Grace Congregational Church wants to redevelop its building. A new historic district stands in its way. PAGE 1

SUNDAY STYLES

Years after being cleared of a heinous crime and leaving an Italian prison, Amanda Knox is intent on telling her story, on her terms.

SUNDAY REVIEW

Maureen Dowd

Unwanted Fame Follows Her

souls in a Ugandan village con-tending with AIDS and a warlord, faced calls from Black members of its own cast to take a fresh look, and wound up making a series of alterations that elevate the main Black female character and clar-ify the satire. Broadway is back. But as shows resume performance after the

The Senate's holdouts Exploring the strategies of Democrats Manchin and Sinema outlook

Metro concerns

Review of rare rail-car defect puts focus on train maintenance LOCAL

The Washington Post

Inside Facebook, Jan. 6 fueled a torrent of anger, regret

D.C.'s Willard hotel served as a 'command center' for Trump team

BY JACQUELINE ALEMANY, EMMA BROWN, TOM HAMBURGER AND JON SWAINE

center," a set of rooms and suites in the posh Willard hotel a block from the White House where some of President Donald some of President Donald Trump's most loyal lieutenants were working day and night with one goal in mind: overturning the results of the 2020 election. The Jan. 6 rally on the Ellipse and the ensuing attack on the Capitol by a pro-Trump mob would draw the world's attention to the quest to physically block Congress from affirming Joe Biden's victory. But the activities at the Willard that week add to an emerging picture of a less visible effort, mapped out in memos by a conservative pro-Trump legal scholar and pursued by a team of presidential advisers and lawyers seeking to pull off what they claim was a legal strategy to reinstate Trump for a second term.

term.
They were led by Trump's personal lawyer Rudolph W. Glu-liani. Former chief White House strategist Stephen K. Bannon was an occasional presence as the effort's senior political adviser.

Backers of then-President Donald Trump view him on screens near the White House at a rally on Jan. 6. A mob later attacked the Capitol in a rampage that left four people dead that day.

ON VIOLENT DAY, ANGST OVER MISSED SIGNS

IMBERG,
AND REED ALBERGOTTI

Relief flowed through Facebook in the days after the 2020 presidential election. The company had cracked down on missinger mation, foreign interference and hate speech — FACEBOK and employees believed they had largely succeeded in limiting problems that, four years earlier, had brought on perhaps the most serious crisis in Facebook's scandal-plagued history.

"It was like we could take victory lap," said a form.

Explosion of plate readers ignites fight over privacy

Meant to bring solace to neighborhoods, devices have done anything but

BY DREW HARWELL

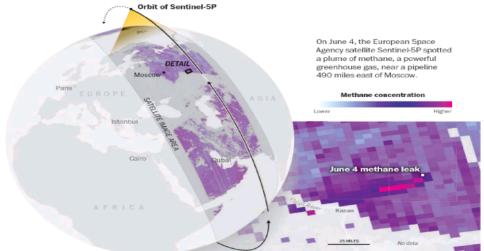

The Paradise Hills neighborhood sits in the quiet foothills of Golden, Colo., and its homeowners association traditionally has concerned itself with enforcing rules around garage door paint colors and nudging residents to critter-proof their trash. So it came as a surprise to Skip Erickson when the HOA board this spring declared that its neighborhood was now besteged by crime, with "bullets flying," street racing and burglaries "terrorizing the families."

To address the threat, the board said it wanted to buy one of the country's hottest new security tools: license plate readers built to scan the tag on every passing vehicle for later inspection by homeowners and police.

To Erickson, 71, the idea of recording everyone's movements in hopes of combating some imaginary menace seemed invasive, ineffective and absurd. "Usually, the car break-ins The Paradise Hills neighbor recording everyone's movements in hopes of combating some imaginary menace seemed invasive, ineffective and absurd.

"Usually, the car break-ins here are from bears, as opposed to people," he said. "And yet suddenly there was this paranoia that we had to protect the neighborhood at all costs."

License plate readers are rapidly reshaping private security in American neighborhods, bringing police surveillance tools to the masses with an automated

Methane leaks in Russia imperil planet

Satellites are rooting out powerful greenhouse gas spills that once went unnoticed

On the morning of Friday, June 4, an underground gas pipeline run-ning through the ancient state of Tatarstan sprang a leak. And not a all one. in a different era, the massive leak

In a different era, the massive leak might have gone unnoticed. But a Washington Post photogra-pher, using satellite imagery and tracking GPS coordinates, found a likely spot an hour's walk from the nearest public roadway, 490 miles

This article is by Steven Mufson Isabelle Khurshudyan, Chris Mooney, Brady Dennis, John Muyskens and Naema Ahmed

Saudi Arabia: Oil giant pledge o reach "net zero" emissions. A east of Moscow. There, he saw a deep gash and tire tracks over an area half a football field in size, flanked by yellow signs warning of underground pipelines between stands of trees. The episode reflects a fundamental shift in climate politics. Many countries and companies have long misrepresented or simply miscounted how much fossil fuel-based, meth-

ed how much fossil fuel-based meth-have let escape into the air. Now, new satellites devoted to locating and measuring greenhouse gases are orbiting Earth, with more on the way. These sentinels in the sky SEE EMISSIONS ON A14

After 535 days out of class, a struggle to get back on track

BY PETER JAMISON

BALTIMORE — At 8 a.m. on the last Monday in August, when he would normally have been asleep, Corey Byrd stepped aboard a city bus that creaked to a stop across bus that creaked to a stop across the street from his grandmother's West Baltimore rowhouse. He sat near an old man squinting at his own reflection in his phone as he scraped a safety razor over his shaven head, and waited to be carried toward the place around which his life had once orbited, and which he had not seen for more than 17 months: his high school school. The southbound 85 bus closed

Baltimore teen, like many at-risk students, fell behind in virtual era its doors, and Corey watched as the familiar sights of Park Heights Avenue receded. The bus passed the dark bay windows of vacant rowhouses and the A-Z Food Market and Discount Li-quor store—the corner he and his friends had occupied through many of the 535 afternoons that he had not been in a classroom. It took him in the opposite direction from the Checkers where he had learned to log into virtual courses on his phone without taking a break from ringing up Big Buford combo meals. After a transfer and a train ride, Corey approached a brick building where Rihanna blasted from the entrance.

where Rihanna blasted from un-entrance.

"Mask over your face! Mask over your face! Welcome back," Kevin James, a school resource officer, shouted over the heads of the teens surging past him in crimson Renaissance Academy polo shirts, When Corey ap-proached, James embraced him. Then the Baltimore City School SEE DROPOUT ON A12

Battle for Va. House hinges on suburbs

Same territory will also determine outcome of a tight governor's race

BY GREGORY S. SCHNEIDER AND LAURA VOZZELLA

RICHMOND — The first time Democrat Rodney Willett ran for a seat in the state House of Delegates, he could barely walk up a driveway looking for votes in his suburban Richmond dis-trict without someone shouting mri. Tunne reconsequent.

trict without someone shouting anti-Trump encouragement.
"Td be 20 feet from a door and someone would see me coming and go, Tm a lifelong Republican and I'm supporting you because I am so done with the party of Trump!" Willett said.

That was two years ago. Now Donald Trump is out of the White House, and the top Republican on many Virginians' radar screen is gubernatorial nominee Glenn Youngkin — a former business executive who works hard to come across as more friendly and likable than the former president.

dent.
The red Youngkin signs now plastered all over Willett's part of Henrico County are a particular issue for Democrats, because there's a prize at stake this year just as coveted as the Executive Mansion: control of the House of Delegates.

Delegates.
All 100 seats in the House are on the Nov. 2 ballot. Democrats are defending a 55-45 advantage. Republicans need to flip just six districts to regain the majority they had enjoyed for a generation until Democrats snatched it in 2019, when voters turned out in massive numbers to express their slike of Trump. Control of the House probably

Control of the House probably hinges on Willett's seat and a handful of others — almost all of them in suburban districts that could swing either way. It's the same territory that will determine whether Youngkin or Democrat Terry McAuliffe wins the governor's race.

"Elections in Virginia have SEE VIRGINIA ON AII

The Sunday Take: Va. vote will test

Vital bloc: Gubernatorial hopefuls in Va. try to win over Latinos. C1

Obama: Former president urges Virginians to back McAuliffe. C1

0 70628 27100 7

CONTENT © 2021 The Washington Post / Year 144, No. 323

Photographs by Andres Leichton Associated Provided Provid

Time for reflection after shooting

Legal experts weigh who will face liability in 'Rust' death

By Ryan Faughnder

The shooting death of cinematographer Halyna Hutchins on a New Mexico film set could have farreaching legal ramifications, experts said — not only for the companies involved but also for individuals, including star and producer Alec Baldwin. Hutchins was killed and director Joel Souza injured Thursday by a gun that Baldwin discharged during the filming of "Rust."

No criminal charges have been filed in the case, which is being investigated by Santa Fe authorities. Baldwin, the film's leading actor as well as one of its producers, said Friday he is "fully cooperating with the police investigation" [See Liability, A8]

HAILEY JOSSELYN holds a candle at the vigil, Hutchins

Tightknit New Mexico film community gathers to mourn

ALBUQUERQUE — "This moment has shaken all of us to the very core," IATSE Local 480 President Liz Pecos said, holding a lighted candle in front of the pink-streaked New Mexico sky.

Hundreds of people stood in front of her, holding heir own candles aloft as they gathered to mourn cinematographer Halyna Hutchins.

Many of those crowded into Albuquerque Civic Plaza on Saturday night were members of Pecos' Local, which represents "below the line" crew members working on film and television productions in New Mexico. working on film and verevision. Pro-Mexico.

A few of the vigil attendees [See Mourn, A8]

GRADES DECLINE AS GAPS WIDEN AT LAUSD

A Times analysis finds Black, Latino students struggling more from the pandemic's effects.

By Paloma Esquivel and Iris Lee

Skyla Fuentes, a junior at Mendez High School in Boyle Heights, is intent on becoming a lawyer — she dreams of attending UC San Diego and then Pepperdine for the state of the line classes. She went from earning and Bs to failing all of her

She went from earning As and Bs to failing all of her subjects.
When the Los Angeles Unified School District offered extra time to improve grades, Skyla worked for days to complete her assignments, telling herself. "Thave to do it for my family" and her teachers who were "putting up a fight for us." She ended up with straight As.

She ended up wun straugnA's.

Now back at school, she is again having a hard time keeping up with the demands of a rigorous schedule that includes precalculus and AP English.

"I honestly don't feel like I'm prepared," she said. "Because of that two-year gap we had of not being on campus, I feel I lost a lot of my knowledge I had back then."

[See Students, A6]

DODGERS starter Walker Buehler reacts after giving up a three-run home run to Eddie Rosario in the fourth inning of the Braves' pennant-clinching 4-2 victory.

Dodgers find a Georgia peak too high to climb

BILL PLASCHKE

ATLANTA—
L.A. Beat.
The chants
can stop now,
their words
transposed,
their challenge answered, their silence deafening.
L.A. Beat.
In a year that seemed so invincible, the unthinkable has happened.
The Dodgers are done
early. The Dodgers'

journey toward a second consecutive World Series championship is prematurely, exasperatingly, go-ahead-and-scream-now finished.

After winning a franchise-tying record 106 games in the regular season, after capturing a thrilling wild-card playoff game against the St. Louis Cardinals, after surviving a monumental series against the ancient rival San Francisco Giants, the Dodgers finally met a mountain too high on a rowdy Saturday night in the South.

It ended with a lunging stop, a whipping throw, a stretching catch. It ended with one last Dodgers shot caught, one last Dodgers runner stalled, one last Dodgers hope expired. It ended.

The scrappy Atlanta Braves stepped on an exhausted Dodgers pitcher, shut down a depleted Dodgers offense, and breathlessly battled to a 4-2 win to clinch a four-games-to-two victory in the National League Championship Series at Truist Park.

The final play was a scorching AJ Pollock
[See Plaschke, A11]

DODGERS LOSE: Team's hopes for World Series title ended by Braves. sports, Di

To protect South L.A., 'Don't sell your damn house!'

Black residents must hold on to their new wealth

Pam Lumpkin knew it was time to leave Brentwood.
For more than a decade, she and her husband, Emmanuel, had lived in the mostly while, mostly we made friends there, built careers there and raised kids there. Built careers there and raised kids there built careers there and raised kids there built careers the arrival of daughter No. 3.

"It was so hard to find a school with more than a few African American families," Lumpkin told me. "I needed her to see there are lots of families like us. I needed her to grow up where I did." So, when an aunt died, leaving Lumpkin a stately but dated house in the historically Black neighborhood of [See Wealth, A12] once-affordable $1-million homes?

Who's buying the

Michael Tubbs spent years making a name for himself as the first Black mayor of Stock ton, pioneering a guaranteed
TH
it into a model for other cities and, one day, hopefully, the entire nation.
It was emitathe way.

entire nation.

It was the the run. But after losing a bid for reelection last year, Tubbs and his wife, Anna, started thinking about their next chapter.

They knew they wanted one thing above all else — to live in a strong Black community. And so they did what a growing number of Black families can't as the cost of housing continues to climb in South L.A. — they bought a house in the historically Black neigh-

$24,100

The worth of a typical Black U.S. household, compared with $188,2 for the typical white household.

41%

The percentage of Black families in California that owned homes in 2019, compared with 68% of white families

UCLA falls short against Oregon

The Bruins lead early and rally late before losing to the No. 10 Ducks 34-31. sports, D4

Who'll pay for O.C. oil spill?

Lawsuits and cleanup costs are mounting, raising new questions.

Weather Cool with increasing clouds. L.A. Basin: 70/57. B10

A. massacre's silent legacy

Frank Shyong reflects on the mob killings of 18 Chinese men in 1871. CALIFORNIA, B1

Press Rea

BUSINESS INSIDE: After decades of stagnating wages, workers are using new leverage. A15

www.elpais.com

EL PERIÓDICO GLOBAL

DOMINGO 24 DE OCTUBRE DE 2021 | Año XLVI | Número 16.168 | EDICIÓN MADRID | Precio: 2,80 euros

cultura 'Caso Baldwin': un rodaje entre múltiples fallos de seguridad falta de camioneros y los eleva-

dos precios de la energía ha acabado por taponar el comercio

EL PAÍS SEMANAL CONTRA el estigma del aborto en el mundo

Atasco global

La pandemia causa una falta de suministros sin precedentes

ÁLVARO SÁNCHEZ, Madrid El mundo vive un atasco global. Lleva 20 meses noqueado por la pandemia. Primero fue el cierre de fronteras y de fábricas. Y, ahora, una demanda inasumible en un contexto de interrupciones por los contagios de la covid, la escasez de semiconductores, la

La crisis deja obras paradas El desbarajuste del y alarga meses la espera para recibir un coche con socavar la recuperación mundial. Obras paralizadas por la escasez de aluminio o de ace-

ro. Esperas de meses para reci-

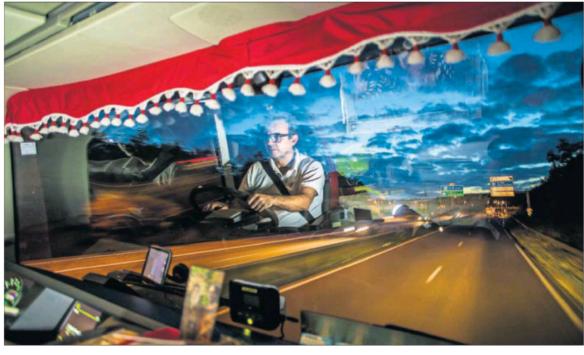

Batalla geoestratégica por los microchips P52

Tiempo de escasez Joaquín Estefania

bir un coche o un lavavajillas.

comercio mundial amenaza

Problemas de suministro de papel, videoconsolas o zapatillas deportivas. Barcos cargados de contenedores en cola más de una semana en puertos de todo el mundo. El desbarajuste amenaza con socavar la recuperación económica. PÁGINAS 50 Y 51

NADIE QUIERE SER CAMIONERO. Lázaro Bermejo tiene 51 años. Lleva 24 recorriendo carreteras y autopistas, un trabajo duro, sacrificado y extremadamente solitario. Por eso los jóvenes huyen de esa labor, pese a que se puede ganar dinero. EL PAÍS lo acompaña durante cuatro días en una ruta por Francia y Reino Unido. Europa necesitará durante los próximos años cerca de 400.000 transportistas. /s. sánchez

La coalición prepara una reunión la próxima semana para rebajar la tensión. Ni Pedro Sánchez ni Yolanda Díaz ceden en lo fundamental: quién lidera la negociación

Pulso feroz por la reforma laboral

C. E. CUÉ / P. CHOUZA, Madrid La coalición de gobierno busca una salida a la peor crisis que ha sufrido desde que Pablo Iglesias abandonó el Ejecutivo: la que en-frenta a su sucesora y ministra de Trabajo, Yolanda Díaz, con el presidente Pedro Sánchez por quién lidera la negociación de la reforma laboral. Ayer se cruzaron conversaciones para rebajar la ten-sión y, aunque el pulso es muy fuerte, ambas partes negocian una reunión de pacificación para la próxima semana.

Unidas Podemos considera la reforma laboral un asunto central. Por eso vio como una injerencia que la vicepresidenta primera, Nadia Calviño, dirigiera las ne-

Alberto Rodríguez abandona Podemos tras perder su escaño en el Congreso gociaciones. Nadie cede. Sánchez apoya a Calviño. Díaz exige que sea Trabajo el que negocie e informe a los ministerios. "Vamos a derogar la reforma laboral a pesar de todas las resistencias", dijo ayer la vicepresidenta segunda en el congreso de CC OO. Sánchez prometió hace una semana acabar con la norma. Páginas 16 a 19

F. GRANDE-MARLASKA Ministro del Interior

"¿Bildu? Todos los apoyos al programa de gobierno son bien recibidos"

El ministro del Interior, Fernando Grande-Marlaska, responde así en una entrevista con EL PAÍS cuando se le pregunta si se siente cómodo con el apoyo de EH Bildu en el Congreso al Ejecutivo del que forma parte: "Todos los apoyos al programa de gobierno que expuso el presidente Sánchez son y deben ser bien recibidos". Rechaza los actos de bienvenida a los exreclusos de ETA, y defiende que "se respetó la legalidad" en la crisis de Ceuta. PÁGINAS 20 Y 21

La izquierda independentista vasca abre etapa P22

Las UCI vuelven a la normalidad con menos de un 5% de camas para la covid

PABLO LINDE. Madrid Los hospitales españoles están ya instalados en la normalidad. Con un 1,4% de las camas y un 4,7% de las plazas de cuidados intensivos ocupadas por enfer-mos de covid-19 —el semáforo de Sanidad establece el umbral en menos del 2% y del 5%, respectivamente-, la pandemia ya solo afecta a ciertos procedimientos y no a la atención rutinaria, según los centros consultados. Página 28

Historia de España enseñará democracia v diversidad identitaria

IGNACIO ZAFRA, Valencia Los alumnos de Bachillerato estudiarán el "complejo" camino hacia la democracia y la "diversidad identitaria" en materia de "senti-miento nacional" en Historia de España. Así figura en el borrador del currículo diseñado por el Ministerio de Educación, al que ha tenido acceso EL PAÍS. PÁGINA 27

el berlinés. NO CANDIDATOS. UNA CAMPAÑA PARA AYUDAR

El fundador de los Espartanos lanzó el proyecto para recaudar fondos para varias ONG

DOMINGO 24 DE OCTUBRE DE 2021 | LANACION.COM.AR

Las disputas en el equipo económico complican el manejo de la crisis

INTERNAS. La avanzada de Feletti por los precios colisiona con la línea que había trazado el Presidente; crece la tensión de los funcionarios kirchneristas con Gúzmán y Kulfas

Cuando faltan tres semanas para las elecciones legislativas, se intensifican en el Gobierno las tensiones y la falta de coordinación en el equipo económico, lo que complica aún más el manejo de la crisis.

La irrupción del secretario de Comercio, Roberto Feletti, con el respaldo de Cristina Kirchner, tiene en alerta a los ministros Martín Guzmán (Economía) y Matías Kulfas (Desarrollo Productivo), que no coinciden con el congelamiento de precios sin acuerdo previo que el nuevo funcionario dispuso esta semana.

Esa medida contradijo incluso las promesas que el presidente Al-berto Fernándezy el jefe de Gabine-te, Juan Manzur, habían hechoa los empresarios apenas horas antes.

Fuentes del Frente de Todos ad-miten que en las últimas semanas deió de existir la coordinación entre las primeras líneas de los ministe-rios (en general albertistas) y las segundas (kirchneristas).

El Gobierno enfrenta en las próximas horas los desafíos de imponer con éxito los controles estatales en supermercados y de detener el alza del dólar blue, que se acerca a la barrera de los 200 pesos. Página 10

EL ESCENARIO

El calvario de un peronismo sin dólares ni jefe

Martín Rodríguez Yebra

Página 12

Desilusión. La distancia de Biden frustra a la región

WASHINGTON (Denuestro corres ponsal).- La llegada de Joe Biden a la Casa Blanca había alentado la expectativa de una nueva era en la relación entre Washington y América Latina, pero el tiempo se encargó de desterrar esa ilusión. La política del presidente con la región – para algu-nos, inexistente – empezó a generar frustración, que acentúa una lejanía profundizada, además, por la pandemia, las crisis domésticas en Estados Unidos y la desarticulación institucional y política en el sur. Página 4

Noviembre, clave para el futuro del Covid

Página 22

Horror a bordo: doble asesinato en un buque

Página 30

Charly fue ovacionado por cientos de admiradores en el CCK

Angustia y temor por los ataques en el sur

DESAMPARO LOS pobladores viven en alerta ante el vandalismo

Candela Ini

SAN CARLOS DE BARILOCHE.-A Salvador se le caen las lágrimas. Rionegrino, jubilado, está arado con su bicicleta, en la que parado con su bicicione, lleva una canasta con empanadas para vender en El Bolsón, frente a los escombros de lo que era el Club Andino Piltriquitrón (CAP). "Esto notermina acá. Mañana puedeser mi casa, puede ser la casa de él", dice a LA NACION, en las horas posteriores al ataque incendiario que conmocionó a la provincia de Río Negro, donde el conflicto por el acceso a la tierra, las ocupaciones y los actos vandálicos es cada vez más agudo. Continúa en la página 14

José Claudio Escribano Un Estado al margen de la razón de su existencia Página 16

Jorge Fernández Díaz La ideología que explica todos los esperpentos Página 38

EL ANÁLISIS

En auxilio de déspotas y violentos

Joaquín Morales Solá

os arrastran la ideología y los resabios de sus falsas historias. Terminarán en una memorable derrota en la Patagonia y, lo que es peor, en el abandono de una parte del territo-rio nacional soberano. La foto de la situación internacional del país. absolutamente aislado y cercano a los regímenes déspotas de América Latina, se reproduce en el interior con la indiferencia frente al foquismo de grupos insurgentes en el sur. Continúa en la página 39

Clarinx

Un toque de atención para a solución argentina de los problemas argentinos

Domingo 24.10.2021

BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA - PRECIO: $ 240,00

Quieren aprobar la interpelación el martes y que se presente junto a Cabandié

Pedido opositor para que Aníbal F. vaya al Congreso por los ataques en el Sur

Todo Cambiemos se alineó detrás de un proyecto del diputado Torello. Piden que los ministros Fernández y Cabandié respondan por la falta de apoyo a las provincias que son atacadas por grupos mapuches. Para aprobar la iniciativa necesitan votos de diputados del PJ. La gobernadora de Río Negro criticó al Gobierno y el Presidente la llamó para prometerle ayuda. P.8

Mapuches en el poder

El apoyo kirchnerista a los grupos radicalizados SUBA DEL COSTO DE VIDA

El aumento del dólar blue ya empieza a tener impacto sobre la inflación

Luego de una semana en la que el dólar paralelo pasó de $185 a $195, subió el precio de los productos importados, con impacto sobre los precios locales. El cepo cambiario, las restricciones al comercio exterior y la expectativa de devaluación anticipan más presión inflacionaria. P. 18

LA CRISIS LABORAL

Sólo el 1,6% de quienes cobran un plan consigue un empleo en el sector privado

La cifra surge de un informe basado en datos del Ministerio de Desarrollo Social. Apenas 18.276 de 1,1 millón de beneficiarios del plan Potenciar Trabajo logra alcanzar un empleo formal. Desde el Gobierno, afirman que el bajo porcentaje es por el efecto recesivo de la pandemia. P.16

Del Editor

Ricardo Kirschbaum

Manzur firma el empate; Cristina se mimetiza

P. 3

Charly emocionó a todos en su cumpleaños

García celebró los 70 en un CCK colmado de fans, junto a su banda y a Fito Páez. Cantó cuatro temas de su gran etapa solista y cerró con el himno de Sui Géneris "Canción para mi muerte". Después, Fito continuó el homenaje en el Teatro Colón. P. 40

REPUBLICA ARGENTINA, AÑO LXXVI Nº 27.262 - RECARGO ENVIO AL INTERIOR: $ 25,00 - PRECIO DE LOS OPCIONALES, EN EL ÍNDICE DE LA PÁGINA 66.

FOLHA DE S.PAULO

HÁ 100 ANOS

UM JORNAL A SERVIÇO DA DEMOCRACIA

ANO 101 * Nº 33.807

DOMINGO, 24 DE OUTUBRO DE 2021

Esporte B9 Rebeca Andrade ganha medalhas de ouro e prata no Mundial de ginástica

Esporte B8 Fora dos ringues, ex-lutador de MMA americano vira drag queen Lola Pistola

Cotidiano B4 Empresário quer 'agroioga' e aula ambiental em parques da Paulista

Desigualdade de renda caiu até 2015 e voltou a crescer

Estudo contraria pesquisas que mostravam deterioração neste século no Brasil

Um estudo a ser publicado mostra que a disparidade na distribuição de renda no Bra-sil caiu de forma ininterrup-ta de 2002 a 2015, tendo vol-tado a aumentar em 2016 e 2017, mas para um nível inferior ao constatado na virada do milênio. O resultado con-traria trabalhos anteriores.

A pesquisa, com metodo-logia criada pelos professo-res do Insper Ricardo Paes de Barros, Laura Muller Ma-chado e Samir Cury e pe-lo diretor da Oppen Social Samuel Franco, muda, pela terceira vez, a interpretação do comportamento da desi-gualdade no país no século.

Os resultados indicam que todas as fatias da popula-ção adulta brasileira situa-das abaixo dos 29% mais ri-cos tiveram crescimento na renda anual acima da média projugnal da gw. po período. nacional de 3% no período analisado. As parcelas aci-ma desse corte aferiram au-mento médio de 2,4% a 2,9%. Em nota técnica de dezem-bro, pesquisadores do World Inequality Lab, centro codi-rigido por Thomas Piketty, sugeriram crescimento da concentração de renda no Brasil. À Folha um dos inte-grantes Marc Morran dissagrantes, Marc Morgan, disse que os dados serão revistos em breve. Mercado A19 e A20

Famílias vão atrás de comida que ia para o lixo Inflação alta e desemprego fizeram a fome se agravar na pandemia, e mais pes-soas têm buscado comida prestes a ser descartada em pontos de distribu-ição de alimentos, como o Mercado Municipal, no centro de São Paulo. Antes procurados por morado-res de rua, esses locais pas-saram a receber cada vez mais famílias. Mercado A24

ASSOREADO, RIO TAQUARI TRANSFORMA PANTANAL DE MS EM LABIRINTO DE ÁGUAS RASAS

Ruivaldo Nery conduz canoa em área sempre alagada após o assoreamento fazer o Taquari sair de seu curso e invadir milhares de hectares Ambiente B6 e B7

Videogames se tornam plataforma para música caecs

Para pesquisadora, Auxílio Brasil corrói rede de proteção co

MÔNICA BERGAMO

Fazer cinema hoie no país é privilégio, diz Karim Aïnouz cz

Colombiana gera debate sobre eutanásia na AL

Caso de paciente com do-ença generativa divide Co-lômbia, onde a prática da eutanásia está legalizada. Chile, México e Argentina analisam projetos. A18

Vinicius T. Freire Como pagar o

aluguel do centrão

A gambiarra para aumen-tar as despesas do governo federal não deve ser suficiente para pagar a conta do pacote eleitoral previs-to por Bolsonaro, pelo centrão e por outros planos do Congresso. Mero

Guedes perde pelo menos 16 nomes desde o início do governo

Paulo Guedes acumula ao menos 16 perdas de auxiliares considerando a recente debandada do núcleo fiscal da Eco-nomia. O ministro vê hoje a pasta mais dependente de so-luções internas e servidores de carreira. Mercado A22 e A23

Michel Temer Furar o teto de gastos públicos

O teto para os gastos pú-blicos fornece credibilidade fiscal interna e internacional. Daí por que não se pode pensar em alterá-lo ao fundamento de que é preciso atender aos vul-neráveis. Opinião A3

CPI tem reta final com divergências

e acordo rompido O vazamento do relató-rio da CPI da Covid trouxe tensão entre Renan Ca-lheiros e o grupo de sena-dores que comanda a co-missão. Há ameaça de defecções na votação do texto, na terça (26). Poder A4

Pfizer diz que sua vacina é eficaz em crianças

Segundo empresa, imu-nizante contra Covid tem eficácia maior que 90% em público de 5 a 11 anos. B2

EDITORIAIS A2 Desafio em Glasgow

Sobre a reunião de cúpu-la que tratará da crise do clima e o desperdício de oportunidades pelo Brasil.

9 771414 572018 33807

Médicos pedem cautela sobre relaxar máscaras Especialistas ouvidos pela Folha dizem ser adequa-do autoridades debaterem como e quando flexibilizar uso de máscaras, mas pregam cautela e veem a pro-teção facial ainda necessá-

ria contra a Covid. saúde B1

PREVENÇÃO À PERDA DE PRESSÃO*.

SEGURANÇA À PROVA DO IMPREVISÍVEL

ULTIMAHORA

www.ultimahora.com

Pierde la guerra contra la delincuencia por descuidar recursos tecnológicos

La Policía tiene equipos, pero no se les da mantenimiento

Solo operan el 40% de las cámaras. Justo las que podían ayudar a dilucidar el asesinato de Mauricio Schwartzman y el cuádruple crimen en PJC estaban desatendidas.

Organismos de control no funcionan Oferta de muslo brasileño y subsidio argentino golpean a los avicultores

Arto XLIX - Nº 30 847 - 108 pageray - G. 10 000

PÁGINA 22

Proyectos de ganaderos y sanitarios Buen clima de negocios atrae el interés de los inversionistas bolivianos

PÁGINA 18

La DNCP revela que se direccionaron licitaciones hacia superproveedora

PÁGINA 16

